NEW ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET

Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 4.

The Admiralty announce that the King has approved the promotion of Adml. Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt, Bt., G.C.B., D.S.O., D.C.L. to be Admiral of the Fleet. Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt will succeed Admiral of the Fleet Sir Osmond de B. Brock, G.C.B., K.C.M.G., K.C.V.O., D.C.L., who has been placed on the retired list "under date of to-day."

Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt, who has been First and Principal A.D.C. to the King since October, 1932, has spent fifty years in the Royal Navy.

Following his promotion to flag rank in 1919, he was appointed successively Senior Naval Officer at Gibraltar in command of the Third Cruiser Squadron, Mediterranean, and Commanding Officer, Coast of Scotland. In 1927 he went to China as Commander-in-Chief.

THE NAVAL CANTEN

A sum of £125 from the captain's fund of H.M.S. Renown, on paying off, has been allotted to the building fund of the new R.N. Canteen at Hong Kong. The balance of the ship's fund on paying off, amounting to £87, has also been subscribed to this object. From the captain's fund £45 has been subscribed to the Association of Retired Naval Officers, and from the ship's fund £24 to the R.N. Benevolent Trust.

From the canteen fund of H.M.S. Kent, on paying off, the following subscriptions have been made:—Association of Men of Kent and Kentish Men, £3; R.N. Sports Control Board, £10; R.N. and R.M. Orphan Home The Nore, £30; St. Bartholomew's Hospital, Rochester, £10; R.N. Lifeboat Institution, £50; National Institute for the Blind, £20; Pearson's Fresh Air Fund, £10; R.N. Benevolent Trust, £50; Union Jack Hostel, London, £10; and Dr. Barnardo's Homes, £20.

COMMAND OF THE ROYAL YACHTS

The King has approved the appointment of Rear-Admiral Dudley B. N. North, C.S.I., C.M.G., C.V.O., to be Rear-Admiral Commanding H.M. Yachts. Adml. North will succeed Adml. the Hon. Sir Herbert Meade-Fetherstonhaugh, K.C.V.O., C.B., D.S.O., A.D.C., and his appointment will date from Dec. 15 next.

An Extra Equerry to the Prince of Wales, whom he has accompanied on his various Empire and foreign tours, Rear-Adml. North was formerly Chief of Staff in the Home Fleet. He was promoted to flag rank in July, 1932, after being Director of the Operations Division of the Naval Staff.

Adml. Sir Herbert Meade-Fetherstonhaugh is a close personal friend of the King. He has been in command of the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert since 1931.

FLAG LIST CHANGES

The following changes in the Flag List were announced by the Admiralty last night:

Vice-Adml. the Hon. Sir Herbert Meade-Fetherstonhaugh, K.C.V.O., C.B., D.S.O., A.D.C., to be Admiral (to-day). Sir Herbert is to be re-appointed in his appointment on promotion.

Rear-Adml. Frank F. Rose, C.M., D.S.O., to be Vice-Admiral, to-day. Capt. Robert S. MacFarlan, A.D.C., to be Rear-Admiral in H.M. Fleet (to-day), and placed on the Retired List (to-morrow).

Capt. Stephen D. Tillard, A.D.C., to be Rear-Admiral in H.M. Fleet (to-morrow), and placed on the Retired List (Aug. 2).

Capt. Cecil B. Prickett, A.D.C., to be Rear-Admiral (Aug. 2) and placed on the Retired List (Aug. 3).

Capt. Charles G. Brodie, A.D.C., to be Rear-Admiral (Aug. 3), and placed on the Retired List (Aug. 4).

Capt. Thomas H. Binney, D.S.O., A.D.C., to be Rear-Admiral (Aug. 4).

VOYAGE OF THE GRIMSBY

On her voyage to China, the new sloop Grimsby, Commander N. V. Grace, is to escort to Hong Kong the trawler Barnet, which is required for duty there. The Grimsby is to leave Portsmouth to-morrow and will remain at Devonport until August 17. Her further programme is:—Gibraltar, August 22-25; Malta, August 30-September 2; Port Said, September 7-14; Suez, September 16; Aden, September 22-25; Colombo, October 5-12; Penang, October 18-21; and Singapore, October 23. If necessary, a call may be made at Bombay, and the subsequent programme amended as required. The passage from Singapore to Hong Kong will be ordered by the Commander-in-Chief, China.

DRAKE'S SWORD FOR PLYMOUTH

To-day is the 345th anniversary of the Battle of Plymouth, the opening battle of the Armada in 1588. To mark the occasion the sword presented to Drake by Queen Elizabeth, which is now an heirloom in the family of Williams of Pre Vallon, Jersey, is to be transferred to Plymouth. The sword will be received by the Commander-in-Chief in the presence of distinguished officers and the whole personnel of the barracks. This evening the annual Drake dinner will be held, and the sword will occupy a position of honour on the table.

MOTORING AND MOTORS

A Sound Family Ten

The new Austin Ten is a sturdy little car, and in using that particular word I mean that it is not only stoutly built, but that its performance is very good for its power and that its four-cylinder engine will probably continue to give its best for a very long time, writes a correspondent. That is the main impression I received from my trial of the latest example. I have tried at least three Ten Austins since the model was first brought out, and have been attracted by them all as admirable specimens of the "family" Tens, but the new one is distinctly better than any of its predecessors.

To begin with what is perhaps the most important feature, it is a little roomier.

It is never easy to get enough bodywork on to a wheelbase of less than 8 feet or more (the Austin's is 7 ft. 9 in.), and when a point is made of keeping the seats as far as possible within the axles the problem probably becomes acute. The Austin-builders have succeeded in producing a small saloon that, without being absolutely spacious, is certainly roomy for its size and that without overhang. The back seat of the de luxe saloon is just forward of the rear axle, which is the proper place for it and the back panel comes well within the outer edge of the rear wheels.

This is almost unknown in these days of the least pieces of American coachwork, particularly of the ultra streamlined type in which air-friction is said to be so surprisingly reduced, you will see how very compact the little Austin is in comparison.

Plenty Of Elbow-Room

I believe the length of the body has not been altered since the last one I tried, but there is certainly more width in the back seat. For people of my dimensions very few small four-seaters are conceivable as more than three-seaters unless I am to sit (in the back seat) in the rigidly Egyptian position, knees up and shins at right angles to thighs. With the front seats in about the normal position I found I could sit in fair ease, allowing room for somebody else beside me to do the same. There is plenty of elbow-room both in front and behind. The doors are unusually wide and there are no footwells those abominable confessions of failure.

Austin engines are very rarely modified, and the Ten is much the same as it was when it was first built. The dynamo is now better mounted on top of the cylinder-block and driven by the fan-belt, but I believe that is the only change. The upper water-leads to the radiator is in the middle of the cylinder-head, petrol is supplied from the 6-gallon rear-slung tank by pump, a dash-board gauge being fitted, and the 12-volt battery is carried in a container on the forward side of the dash. The other half of the container houses the tool-kit. Both carburettor and distributor are accessibly placed; and the unit as a whole is really well planned. The cubic content of the engine is 1,125 c.c., the bore and stroke being 63.5 by 89 mm. The Treasury rating is just under 10, and 20 h.p. is claimed at 2,600 revolutions.

The Gears

The chassis is cross-braced, the engine being flexibly mounted on rubber. The new gear-box has constant mesh to second as well as third and top speed, and these gears are, if not silent, at least unusually quiet. Gear-changing, with the synchromesh, is pleasantly easy, and swift changes up and down can be made without risk of delay or scrape. There is no freewheel but, so far as easy gear-changing goes, it is not wanted. The ratios are fairly low, top being 5.25 to 1, third 8 to 1, second 12.8 to 1 and bottom 20.7 to 1, yet I did not notice that the engine was running particularly fast at full throttle.

Other commendable points are singlepoint brake adjustment and oil-less spring shackles. I wish somebody who knows would tell me why the latter are not universally used in ordinary touring cars. Is there a serious drawback to them, or is it just indifference to the peace of mind of the unfortunate owner-driver who has to use the hated grease-gun? I am very willing to be convinced either way. Having a painfully inquisitive mind, mechanically speaking, I always want to know the why of everything, and I am very seldom told. Oil-filters you can take out and clean as you take out and clean a sparking-plug, oil-less and batteries, that you can attend to without having to tear up floorboards and use artificial light, are, to my mind, primitive essentials in any motor-car. The three together in one chassis are still strangely rare.

Speed And Hill-Climbing

The Austin has a good turn of speed. It will do, according to its speedometer, about fifty-three miles an hour, flat out, and I make out that this is just about its real figure. It climbs hills with characteristic sturdiness, maintaining its speed when you would expect it to drop, and gaining on every encouragement. It took 78 seconds to climb the test section of Westerham Hill, from a standstill at the cross-roads, and the speed shown was between twenty-two and twenty-six miles an hour. It has good acceleration on third and top, and its performance in traffic and on winding roads is lovely. The rubber mounting does not wholly damp out engine-tremor, but what is left is slight. I was interested to see that at about fifty miles an hour the running became perfectly smooth. The springing is good, and the steering light and steady. The instruments all worked, and they are neatly grouped on the driver's side of the dash, the other half forming a useful cubby-hole. (One of these days I am going to design my own dash—but I dare say that will be the end of it.)

I think this useful little car is very good value at £158 for the fixed head saloon, and £172 10s. for the de luxe saloon with sliding roof. I also still think it is the most successful Austin yet made.

MOTOR JOTTINGS

"THE AUTOCAR" ROAD TESTS

A.C. Ace Sports Four-Seater

In the latest model open four-seater A.C. Ace the various improvements made to the chassis this year are most clearly apparent. These include, as one of the principal points, a new type of longer wheelbase frame with cruciform cross-bracing, which is very much better as regards rigidity—always an important point where a high-performance car is concerned.

This is a particularly pleasing car, one which is more than a sports type of open body on a standard from of chassis, though one also which can be driven just as one handles the ordinary type of car, without need for any special method of driving yet it is thoroughly satisfactory to the keener type of driver, who finds that it will answer well to the mode of handling which he prefers on occasion.

Besides being comfortable, and having a very pleasing appearance, the car has just those qualities about it which give it the sports machine flavour, for the engine power is very good indeed, the maxima on the gears are most useful, 80 m.p.h. is obtainable as a maximum on top gear, and certainly by no means least, the car is very steady on corners and has steering which, though light, is also most satisfactorily accurate.

At the same time the engine is quiet, with just a suggestion of exhaust note, but there is no conspicuous noise or fuss to attract undesirable attention. It is a combination of the points that the car can be driven softly and quite lazily, mostly on top gear in the manner of an ordinary touring machine, and alternatively can be opened up to accelerate very well past other vehicles or up a gradient if one feels so inclined, that gives the car a great deal of the appeal it possesses.

This was a car which took part in the R.A.C. Rally in March, and it has the three-carburettor spots engine and a higher compression ratio than is used for the ordinary models. A higher ratio back axle—4.33 to 1—can be supplied if required.

Light Steering

Most definitely the latest steering is a great advance; sometimes it seems that the importance of the steering in passing judgment on a car immediately in touch with it as the driver is the whole time, is not sufficiently recognised even to-day. The brakes, too, are excellent, having all the power that can be desired for ordinary deceleration or emergency stops, at the same time remaining smooth in their action and not causing swerves or reaction on the steering.

The question of the stability of the car is, of course, linked up with the setting of the friction shock absorbers that are used, but the adjustment at the time of test on the road gave the impression of being a good compromise between stability at speed and very reasonably soft suspension for ordinary running; for the maximum speed test they were tightened and the car rode very well indeed on Brooklands, feeling safe and steady.

It is a car on which an excellent average can be put up, for it will hold an easy 60 m.p.h. as a cruising speed on a suitable road, and at 50 or so it is especially pleasant, running quietly, smoothly, and with the always satisfactory feeling that there is plenty in hand, depression of the accelerator producing an immediate response.

The engine power shows up particularly well on hills, most of which on main roads can be taken as fast as one usually requires in the car's stride on top gear, whilst for more rapid climbs third gear is really useful, for it gives an extreme limit of just over 80 m.p.h. and a comfortable 50. It has to be an appreciably severe gradient, even on by-ways, which will bring the car down to second. The car shines, too, on a really steep hill; it made a most satisfactory ascent of Brooklands Test Hill from a standing start, and restarted with real snap on the 1 in 4 and 1 in 5 gradients.

An Unusual Feature

An unusual feature was that the speedometer proved to be markedly slow at readings of 30, 40 and 50, and still slow even at 60, whilst during the timed runs the needle did not go beyond a reading of 81, though the best run—as apart from the average of several such tests given in the table—was at 81.82 m.p.h. over the quarter-mile with the wind favourable. The windscreen was lowered for the speed tests, but not in the acceleration tests.

Taking No Risks

A sparrow perched on a golf ball just as the player was about to drive. Birds instinctively know the safest place in a moment of danger.

At Home Again

"Could you put me in the same cell?" begged the habitual drunkard as he was carried below. "I could never sleep in a strange bed."

MOTORING ON THE WATER

Punt to Carry Car

A remarkable craft that goes far to converting a car into a motor boat has been invented and built by an ex-Naval engineer, Mr. Alfred Burgess, of Putney. His boat is in the form of a punt on to which a car can be driven, and by using the engine of the car as the motive power the punt becomes a motor boat in about ten minutes. In order to control the boat the driver stays at the wheel of his car exactly as if he were on the road. The craft, which has been aptly named Precursor 1, is in regular use on the Thames.

The method of turning the car into a motor boat is interesting. The front and back wheels are jacked up on special jacks which are fitted to the bottom of the boat and are adjustable to suit different wheelbases, but the front wheels are not raised to such a large extent as the rear wheels. In the case of a car that possesses its own jacking system the boat's jack could be dispensed with.

Opposite each rear wheel are arms to rest against the tyres and take up the drive, conveying it to two propellers situated on either side at the rear of the boat. These arms do not slip owing to the special design of their spring-loading, neither have they been found to wear the tyre walls. Steering is controlled by the steering of the car, to attain which ingenious use is made of the differential. The front wheels are connected by two arms to independent brake drums on the propeller drive mechanism, so that the action of turning the wheel automatically applies a brake to the propeller situated on the side towards which the front wheels are turned. In other words, the boat is steered exactly as if the car were on the road, and owing to the action of the differential the car's rear wheel, and therefore the propeller on one side, are not affected by the stoppage of the driving force on the other.

Driving is carried out in top gear, and in a sudden emergency

A SAFETY SWITCH

A very ingenious "Safety from Fire Switch" has recently been introduced by the Graviner Manufacturing Co., Ltd., First Avenue House, High Holborn, W.C.1. This is contained in a glass-fronted rectangular case approximately 3 1/2 in. square, the depth being slightly greater, which is mounted on the engine side of the dash and has electrical leads running from the instrument to the battery and dynamo, to the magneto if fitted, and to an earth connection on the chassis.

The switch consists of a contact assembly of the type employed in telephone station equipment, having silver contact points and these contacts are actuated by a comparatively powerful spring, so as to obtain instantaneous and certain operation. A pendulum, which is pivoted so that it is free to swing in two directions, has a cam surface engaging with a triangular arc-shaped cam carried on the end of a small pivoted lever which forms part of a trip mechanism, and without going into greater detail of construction it may be said that a sudden shock, or a tilting of the instrument, causes the pendulum to operate on the cam, so releasing the trip and allowing the contacts to open under the action of the spring. Therefore, a vehicle fitted with this device is protected from fire in the event of a collision or overturning to a greater angle than 45 degrees, since dynamo and battery are disconnected from the ignition and lighting systems. At the same time, slight impacts violent braking, or fast cornering will not cause the switch to act.

the driver can not only brake but can also soon change into reverse gear. Up till now the car used has been an old 11.9 h.p. Morris-Cowley which has proved itself to possess ample power for the river, and a speed of about 8 knots is obtained with the tide, or 14 knots against it, at which speed the wheels are turning at a corresponding road pace, of 20 m.p.h.

HOW IT WORKS—AND WHY

On many cars "quarter-elliptic" springs are used. These may be considered as half-elliptic springs cut through the thick centre portion and are attached to the frame by clamping the thick ends to suitable brackets, and the projecting thin ends are then bolted to the axles, the springs being upside down as compared with the half-elliptics. When such springs are used there is no need for dumb irons, and so the frame design is modified.

Whatever the shape of the frame may be, it is essential that it shall be rigid, and cross-members will be introduced as required. In particular there will be a strong cross-member at about the middle, and cross-members may be added between the ends of the dumb irons. As a rule the main frame members are of "channel section," that is, if one were cut through the end would appear to be like a U with a flat base laid on its side. Bolted to the main frame members are brackets which support the running boards and stays which carry the wings.

The Front Axle

Some description of the front axle is now necessary, and this involves the steering mechanism. The axle itself is a steel beam, which, if cut through the middle, would present an end like an I. As a rule, the ends of the axle beam are upswep from the points where the springs are attached, and the section is changed, to give greater strength at the ends. It can easily be imagined that if the axle were perfectly straight from end to end the car would be higher off the ground, and a low build is always aimed at in the interests of steadiness on the road.

The ends of the axle have pivoted to them the "steering knuckles," which carry the front wheels on short projecting axles, or "stub axles." The steering knuckles have projecting from them short "steering arms" connected by a rod, known as the "steerod," so that when one wheel moves the other must move with it. The steering knuckle on the right-hand side also has another projecting arm connected by a rod, known as the "drag link," to the lever known as the "drop arm" of the steering gear, of which various types are in use.

One of the most frequently steering gears is the worm and wheel, the worm—a giant screw thread—being formed on the lower end of the steering column and meshing with the worm wheel carried on a short horizontal shaft in a suitable casing, usually attached to the right-hand main frame member. On the end of the worm wheel shaft is fixed the short lever or drop arm, to which the drag link is attached, and thus, when the steering wheel at the head of the steering column is rotated, it turns the worm wheel, through the agency of the worm, and swings the drop arm backwards or forwards, thus pulling on the drag link and so inclining the front wheels towards the left, or pushing on the drag link and turning them towards the right.

Other steering gears sometimes used include the worm and sector, which is really the same as the worm and wheel in action (since the sector is part of a worm wheel), worm and nut, and in a few cases epicyclic gears.

Recently a few cars have been introduced with "independent suspension" systems, in which the axle beam is modified, or actually eliminated, in such a manner that each wheel is free to move under the control of its own spring or springs and without affecting its fellow. Thus, in the case of front wheels, there may be no axle beam as ordinarily used, and in its place the wheel may be supported by the stub axle assembly carried by the ends of two transverse half-elliptic springs. Or two links giving a parallel motion may be used in conjunction with coil springs.

In the case of independent suspension applied to the rear wheels, the design is complicated by the necessity for taking the drive, and a popular method is to mount the final drive assembly rigidly on the chassis frame and to carry the wheel on a half-axle casing pivoted to the final drive housing so that each rear wheel is free to swing up and down. A transverse half-elliptic spring may conveniently be used for the suspension, this being bolted to the chassis at its mid-point with the ends attached by links or slides to the ends of the swinging half axles, or coil springs may be used.

Modern Developments

Independent suspension has been applied successfully to both front and rear wheels, but there is a tendency at present to utilise it in front only, the rear axle following orthodox practice. Naturally, there are many different designs for independent springing systems, and one very interesting layout utilises the torsional elasticity of a steel rod instead of the more usual leaf or coil spring. Also, in some cases independent steering is adopted, there being a single steering gear box, but a separate connection to each front wheel.

Mention must also be made of a very useful auxiliary to the suspension system, the shock absorbers. These may be of frictional or hydraulic type, but their purpose is the same, to damp out the natural oscillations of a springing system when it has been set in motion.

NISSAN MOTORS

The Nissan Motors Company (formerly the Jidosha Seizo Kaisha) is to expand its work in Koyasu near Yokohama. It intends to bring up the yearly production of small runabout cars from 1,200 to 5,000. It will also handle parts for Ford and Chevrolet cars.

In order to attain a controlling interest in the General Motors Company (Japan) Ltd., the Company was once in negotiation with the G.M.C. Management for a transfer of shares. As already noted, however, negotiations had to be discontinued, owing to the Government policy of consolidating the motor car industry as a purely Japanese undertaking.

In the event of its works being completed the Nissan Company will be placed in a position to produce car parts equivalent to 20,000 cars a year. The Management is pushing negotiations with the General Motors Company and Ford Motor Company for the sale of these parts under term contracts.

WAR LEADERS

Who Have Passed Away

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 4.
The death of President von Hindenburg sees the passing of yet another of that diminished band of great figures who occupied the stage of war twenty years ago.
War-time monarchs have died or fled into exile or obscurity. There remain King George V. and King Victor Emmanuel of Italy.
The great men of the army, navy and of politics have dwindled to a handful. A few still survive—Jellicoe, Beatty, Lloyd George, Lord Allenby, Sir Ian Hamilton, Sir William Birdwood, in England; Poincaré and Weygand in France; Ludendorff and Von Kluck in Germany. General Pershing and Admiral Sims in America.
Here is a list of some of the great war time leaders who have died since the Armistice.

BRITAIN

Politicians: Sir Henry Wilson, Lord Oxford, Lord Haldane, Lord Curzon, Lord Balfour, Viscount Grey of Strathmore, Lord Fisher, Earl of Ypres, Gen. Sir F. Lloyd, Lord Rawlinson, Gen. Sir Charles Townshend.
Soldiers: Lord Fisher, Admiral Sir H. Jackson, Admiral Sir H. Evan-Thomas, Admiral Sir D. Sturdee.

FRANCE

M. Clemenceau, M. Viviani (Premier 1914), Marshal Foch, General Nivelle, Marshal Joffre, M. Briand.

GERMANY

Grand-admiral Herr Eberhard von Tirpitz, President of Republic, Prince von Su-low, Herr Stresemann.

SCOT WHO WAS "TOO OLD TO FIGHT"

Became A Major And Won The M.C.

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 4.
Major Alexander Buchan Fyfe, M.C., well known in South African sporting and journalistic circles, has died suddenly at Bloemfontein, Orange Free State. He was born at the Perthshire hamlet of Glendock 64 years ago.

He was a foundation member of the South African Journalists' Society and elected a life member at the last annual conference. He started his career as an apprentice with his father in the last building trade and later became an artisan, contractor, soldier, and journalist. During the war he tried to join up in London (Britain), but was turned down on account of his age. He returned to South Africa and served in the South-West and East African campaigns, was promoted major in 1917, and awarded the Military Cross.

After the war he was editor of the "People's Weekly" (Bloemfontein) and the "South African Poultry Journal." Later he joined the "Friend."

Major Buchan Fyfe, who was a bachelor, became famous as a writer on Association football, and was for many years vice president, and then president, of the Orange Free State Football Association.

"REVAMPING" THE MODERN CAR

It seems to be considered by the American automobile journals that design is in a state of transition, and that radical alterations are not far ahead, at all events so far as cars in the United States are concerned.

An eminent authority is quoted as saying that to compete with the aeroplane and new forms of railway transportation car speeds of 100 to 120 m.p.h. are coming as soon as the much talked-of super-highways are built. He adds: "Think of what doubling road speed means in the revamping of the entire car," and also that "The rear tyres now have more than they can do in propelling the car, a practical four-wheel drive car being as necessary to-day as four wheel brakes were a decade ago." He had in mind, of course, the typical American modern car possessing tremendous acceleration capabilities.

THE RAILWAY AND PROSPERITY

Sir Robert Horne On A Misconception

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 4.
Sir Robert Horne, M.P., who is chairman of the Great Western Railway Company, pointed out in a speech at a luncheon at Newport, Mon. yesterday that, in spite of recent increased revenue, the railways had by no means returned to prosperity.

Alderman J. Moxon had said that owing to lack of modern equipment at Newport docks the shipment of coal for export was being transferred to Cardiff and other rival docks westward.

Sir Robert Horne pointed out that since the Great Western Railway had assumed responsibility for Newport docks in 1922 they had spent something like £400,000 on them and had installed 27 new electric cranes. "Our interest in the docks of South Wales is immense," he said. "We have £21,000,000 of capital in South Wales, which in the last few years has been rendering us the poorest possible returns. We have spent enormous sums on many of these docks, which on the whole I believe to be second to none in the world. We have had very difficult times, and our revenue from the docks has been the most disappointing part of our system."

"People looking at the figures of increasing railway revenue for this year are inclined to forget the appalling 'declension' of the last few years. When they see the increase in 1933 they think that the railways are becoming profitable. That is a complete misconception of the position."

"Even in this year, when we are supposed to be doing so well, the railways are many millions behind the revenues of 1930, when the tribunal appointed to consider their position came to the conclusion that revenues were sufficient to bear the charges made on them."

300 PEOPLE CHASE BULL

Exciting Scenes At Aberdeen Harbour

Three hundred people took part in exciting scenes resembling a wild west rodeo at Aberdeen Harbour on Saturday when a bullock broke away from a herd being driven along Blaikie's Quay from the North boat.

Snorting furiously, the animal careered along the quay, with the drovers giving chase.

A motor lorry was commandeered by the pursuers. One drover emulated the rodeo stars by making a lasso, and when he came within reach he sent the lariat spinning over the animal's head. The bullock fought furiously to release itself but the drovers managed to take it to the railway goods yard in Market Street.

The bullock, however, broke away again in the direction of the crowded part of Market Street, scattering people in its path. This time 300 people assisted the drovers in the pursuit. They managed to drive the animal into a yard, where it was held captive until the arrival of a float.

AN AIR PARCEL SERVICE TO CEYLON

To Operate Weekly

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 4.

The Postmaster-General announces that, starting with the despatch from London on Saturday, there will be a weekly air parcel service to Ceylon by the England-India-Malaya air mail service. The air parcels will be conveyed by air to Karachi, for onward transmission to Ceylon by surface transport, and will be due to reach Colombo on Thursday, 12 days after despatch from London.

The inclusive postage rate is 3s. per half pound up to a maximum of 20lb.

Air parcels for Ceylon posted on Friday in time for the parcel collections from the London District head offices and branch offices between 8.45 p.m. and 8 p.m., and from sub-post offices in London generally between 6.15 p.m. and 6.45 p.m. will connect with the service. At the Head Post Office, King Edward Street, E.C.1, parcels will be accepted up to 9 p.m. on Friday.

Regain Radiant Health

Full of Energy and Joy of Life—free from depressing ailments. Wouldn't you like to feel like that? You can!

For unless you are suffering from organic disease, there is absolutely no reason why the priceless joys of youth should be denied you, even though middle-age is approaching.

Thousands have been faced with the same troubles and worries and have regained their former health and strength by taking a course of Sanatogen. It will improve your health and strengthen your nerves.

Read what "The Lancet" writes:

"There is abundant evidence of the value of Sanatogen as a restorative and food and more particularly in cases of general debility."

Why let another day pass with your nerves depressed and your vitality lowered? All Chemists stock Sanatogen. Buy a package and start a regular course—to-day.

CHINESE POLITICS

are absorbing, as pregnant to a Chinese as those of Westminster to a Lyons Corner House luncher.

Chinese Sports claims its devotees by the hundred of thousands.

Local News is a matter of vital personal interest to all newspaper readers.

The Corner House idea has held away in South China for hundreds of years. But they have no "Nippys" yet.

So, out of the 800,000 inhabitants of Hong Kong, 18,000 actually subscribe to the paper with the most authoritative political articles, the best sporting writers and the fullest reports of local affairs in the Colony in South China—a high proportion where only 14% over 16 years of age are literate.

18,000 subscribe to the NAN WHA JIT PAO.

eon in London yesterday, paid an eloquent tribute to the late Marie Dressler, one of the greatest stars
under contract to his company,
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

"I loved her as I loved my mother," he said, speaking with restrained emotion. "Marie was so generous that I didn't give her all the money she could have earned;
she would have given it all away.
Instead, we considered forming a trust fund for her old age, so that she would never know want, but she was very independent."

"The last time Mr. Schenck went to see her he took a cheque for 10,000 dollars (£2,000) in case
there was anything she needed;
but she did not want to take it,
and proved by her bank book that she had as much money as she required. A brave and lovely woman."

Though Mr. Mayer did not refer to the subject, the loss of a great star like Miss Dressler naturally involves the company in heavy loss. Ordinarily she made two pictures a year, and her gross returns for the world would run into millions of dollars. She probably earned for her employers, at the height of her fame, anything from £250,000 to £500,000 a year. Her salary in the last years of her life was about £1,000 a week.

London, Aug. 4.

Germany will celebrate to-day the twentieth anniversary of her entry into the war with military services and the ringing of church bells throughout the Reich. On the Lustgarten Square in Berlin special detachments of the Berlin garrison will parade with police, storm troops, Nazi guards, and Hitler Youth.

They will be addressed by a Protestant and a Catholic Chaplain and by the officer in command of the garrison, Major-Gen. von Witzleben.

At a preliminary ceremony to-day a guard of honour of the Reichswehr (the Regular Army) paraded in front of the War Memorial in the Unter den Linden. They marched to the music of the song: "My Prussia stands so proud and great."

War Horrors Overlooked

Newspapers contain long accounts of events in the early days of August, 1914. The headline "France and Russia mobilised before us" is common.

The general tone of the articles is typified by a writer in the 12 Uhr Abendblatt, who describes the visit of the British Fleet to Kiel in the summer of 1914 as the "last great piece of espionage" and the French army as "burning with revenge for 1870." The romantic side of Germany's mobilisation is everywhere stressed.

Leader writers speak lyrically of the songs of the marching soldiers and the flowers thrown down on them by the women but the horrors of the war which was begin-

WHILE NEW YORK
SLEEPSAlice Faye's
"Inspiration"

For the first time, Alice Faye will sing a song before an audience without the benefit of previous rehearsals and advice of her discoverer and mentor, Rudy Vallee.

This song, a highlight of the Fox Film production, "While New York Sleeps," showing to-day at the King's Theatre is entitled "Poolin' Around with Other Women's Men." It was written especially for her by Lew Brown, associate producer for Fox Film.

Although Rudy was not on hand to coach her, his radio personality contributed something to Miss Faye's interpretation of the song. It happened like this: Lew was rehearsing Miss Faye so that the song could be recorded that night. Alice interrupted the session at 4.30 to announce that she was going home, but would be back in a couple of hours.

Brown looked at his watch, asked what day it was and, upon being told it was Thursday, nodded wisely. He whispered to his secretary and came back into the rehearsal room, all ready to continue work. Alice nodded around awhile, but in about 20 minutes, when a portable radio was delivered and hooked up in the office and the Rudy Vallee hour was announced as the next programme, things quietened down.

For an hour everyone sat and listened. Then rehearsals were continued on her own song, and everyone says it's going to a terrific hit number.

Brown is a smart young man! Alice is playing her first dramatic role in this picture, which is also the first starring production for Spencer Tracy. Others in the cast are Helen Twelvetrees, Robert Gleckler, G. P. Huntley Jr., Henry O'Neill and Hobart Cavanaugh.

ning 20 years ago are passed over in silence.

"THIS MAN IS MINE"Good Tonic For Husbands

Wives who have become a bit irked at the habitual and increasing coolness of their mates are advised to take the latter to the King's Theatre on Wednesday, to see Irene Dunne's latest starring vehicle, "This Man Is Mine." Or, at least, so says the manager of that theatre.

The story, an adaptation of the stage success, "Love Files In The Window," deals with the adventures of a meandering hubby, who becomes entangled in the arms of an habitual home-wrecker, a beautiful flirt whose motto is "love 'em and leave 'em." Through the ingenious manoeuvrings of his neglected wife, the husband is, at the end, forced to eat the humble pie and become properly worshipful.

"This Man Is Mine" is replete with witty dialogue and satirical humour, barbed sufficiently, it is said, to abash the most hardened and habitual philanderers Ralph Bellamy, Constance Cummings, Sidney Blackmer, Kay Johnson, Charles Starrett, Vivian Tobin and Louis Mason. John Cromwell directed.

OFFER TO OWEN
NARESMay Star In Holly-

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 4.

Mr. Owen Nares has been asked to go to Hollywood by the Universal Pictures Corporation to play opposite Claudette Colbert in a talkie.

"I have to find out if the making of the film can be held back until my arrangements in this country allow me to leave England," Mr. Nares said.

He will be in actor-management with a new play entitled "Lovers Leap" in London during the autumn.

Mrs. Nares saw the play at the Liverpool Repertory Theatre, and was so enthusiastic about it that her husband bought it without having actually seen it.

Mr. Nares is at present playing a leading part in "Sixteen," the successful play at the Criterion.

VON CRAMM WINS

Hamburg, Aug. 10.

Gottfried von Cramm, Germany's premier tennis player, to-day beat the American Burwell 6-2, 6-1, 6-4 in the international tennis championships for Germany. In the mixed doubles the German pair Frau Sperling and Herr von Cramm won over the English pair Scriven-Tuckey 6-2, 6-4.

"HIDDEN GOLD"

At The Oriental

You've been waiting for a slash-bang, shoot-'em-up, rip-roaring Western of the good old days—with the greatest of all the cow-bunching stars high in the saddle!

Well, you're going to get it—and Tom Mix and Universal have done the job—with a few thrills to boot. The bullet-studded title is "Hidden Gold" and it's coming to the Oriental Theatre to-morrow and Thursday on a rip-tide of thundering hoofs, thudding boxing gloves, prison breaks, forest fires and two-gunned mixups.

Tony has as much to do with the activity as usual, and blonde Judith Barrie makes the most romantically pictorial leading lady that red-blooded Mix has had in many a moon. Raymond Hatton, Eddie Gribbon, Donald Kirk and the fight-champ, Roy Moore, are in the cast too—so don't miss it.

HAIL "HELEN"!Two Titles In One Day

Forest Hills, Aug. 19.

Miss Helen Jacobs retained her title to-day, beating Miss Sarah Palfrey 6-1, 6-4.

The champion chopped her way to victory in characteristic style. She sent over a mixture of shots which Miss Palfrey was unable to solve and continually netted.

Miss Jacobs was deadly in her service delivery and her ability to pull up and win games after trailing love-40 disheartened her young opponent, whose skill in extricating herself from difficult position suddenly deserted her.—

Reuter.THE DOUBLES

Forest Hill, Aug. 19.

A second success in the American women's tennis championships fell to Miss Helen Jacobs to-day, when, partnered by Miss Sarah Palfrey, she won the doubles crown. They defeated Miss Caroline Babcock and Mrs. Andrus in the final after a strenuously contested three-set match, the scores being 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Miss Jacobs and Miss Palfrey thus regain the title they won in 1932. This is the second time Miss Jacobs has annexed the doubles, while it makes it Miss Palfrey's third success. The first time she carried off this championship was in 1930, when she partnered Miss Betty Nuthall.—

ECHOES OF 1861

55-A Magician At The Theatre Royal

We have omitted to notice Monsieur De Barr's performance on Tuesday night. As usual there was a good house, the pit being nearly full and the boxes nearly empty. The result was most satisfactory, nearly every trick being greeted with warm applause. He has announced a performance at reduced price on Saturday, for the behoof of those who having families will be enabled to avail of the reduction. The best tricks of the three performances already gone through will be selected.

To give those an idea of Monsieur De Barr's peculiar powers, who may not have witnessed his extraordinary performances, we will attempt to describe two of his tricks.

He takes in his hand a common looking champagne bottle. Advancing towards the audience he desires that any "liquor" those before him may fancy shall be called for. One says Champagne, and a glass is filled with the sparkling fluid—Cherry brand, says another, and out is poured the ruby liquor—Old Tom, says another, and "the particular" is forthwith emitted. Caraco, says a fourth, and his velle taste is gratified. Cognac, says another and the stimulant is immediately forthcoming. We should imagine these changes were rung through a score of glasses—each liqueur called for was poured out of the same bottle, which was held in the right hand and nothing could be fairer than the whole address of the performer.

Again, he asks for a hat from one of the audience. Clearly nothing is in it—he holds it with the crown towards the people and he shovels out of it with his hands enough feathers to reach his knees. This trick seems diabolical in every respect.

There are many other tricks more amusing, but these will give an idea of the artist's powers. The whole performance is most amusing and highly creditable.

Around the Courts

POLICE OFFICERS VICTIMIZED

hard labour. In doing so he radiator caps from their motor-cars stolen during the week-end.

Mak Fat, 47 was charged before Mr. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistrate's court yesterday with stealing radiator caps from Traffic Sergeant Scrim's car. No. 2017, which parked in Hankow Road near Halphong Road, and from Acting Sub-Inspector Ritchie's car. No. 128.

"According to Inspector Rozesky, who prosecuted, defendant was found in front of Sgt. Scrim's car on Saturday with a radiator cap in his hands. A search revealed another cap, which had since been identified as belonging to Sub-Inspector Ritchie.

Defendant denied having stolen the radiator caps. He said he was a street-sleeper and awoke on Saturday morning to find the caps in his pocket.

The defendant was sentenced to three months on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

BANISHEE GAOL

On a charge of having returned from banishment, Benito Omella, 20-year old unemployed Filipino was sentenced to six months' hard labour by Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistrate's court yesterday. Defendant was banished for four years on August 18. He was deported to Macao and was given every opportunity of going to Manila but he declined, saying that he had friends in Macao.

PARTIALITY FOR HONG KONG

Lo Shu was charged before the Police Judge, Mr. Justice Jacks, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday with a breach of the Deportation Ordinance.

Appearing for the Crown, Mr. W. J. Lockhart-Smith said the accused was a persistent offender, the present being the seventh occasion on which he had returned from deportation. After serving a five-year term he was on the last occasion banished for life. An informer joined him but in Saigon Street to the police, and he was arrested.

His Lordship passed the maximum sentence of five years' hard labour, the accused having pleaded guilty.

AN ELEMENT OF DOUBT

Alleged to have attempted to sell a pair of gold-coated silver ear-rings as gold to the Tung Hing pawnshop, at No. 108 Johnston Road, Lam Ming, a married woman, was arrested and produced before Mr. Hamilton, at the Central Magistrate's court yesterday.

Chan Man, an accountant at the pawnshop, said defendant came into the shop about 3 p.m. on Saturday and offered the pair of ear-rings, saying they were gold. She asked $2 for them. Witness examined them, and found they were silver.

Defendant denied having told complainant the ear-rings were gold. She said she told complainant she did not know what they were, as she had been given them as a present.

Mr. Hamilton discharged defendant remarking there was an element of doubt in the case.

ADJOURNED AGAIN

Adjourned from the July Sessions, the case in which Private Robert Booth, of the South Wales Borderers, is charged with highway robbery on the Island Road and assault on Lo King, a public car driver, on June 15 last, was adjourned to next month by Chief Justice MacGregor, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday.

Mr. Fraser, for the Crown, stated that Booth was in the Victoria Gaol Hospital, suffering from typhoid and was very ill.

Dr. L. D. Pringle, prison doctor, deposed that Booth was under his care, and would be fit for trial for the next seven days. He had been attending him for three or four weeks.

His Lordship: The case will stand over to the next Sessions.

HE "WAS VERY DRUNK"

On a charge of having assaulted a seven-year old Chinese boy, To Kan, on board a cargo boat in the harbour, Tatsushiki Okumura, an engineer on the Japanese trawler Fukuju Maru, was fined $5, or seven days' hard labour, and also ordered to pay $5 compensation, at Central Magistrate's court yesterday.

Defendant admitted the charge, but said the injury was accidental. Complainant's father, To Chai, said that about 4 p.m. on Saturday he delivered a basket of vegetables on board the trawler, and was waiting to take delivery of six tins of lubricating oil. Defendant rushed out of his cabin, and threw an empty tin at him. It missed him and struck his son in the face.

Defendant expressed his regrets, and said he was very drunk and did not know what he was doing.

For unlawfully loitering his boat within 100 yards of the West Wall of the Royal Naval Camber last Sunday afternoon, Leung Kam Chung, aged 37 years master of Boat No. 22307, was fined $5 or in default five days' hard labour by Mr. Hodge at the Marine Court yesterday morning.

PONIES ALMOST GIVEN AWAY

Few Bidders At Sale

Th four Australian ponies which came with the recent lot of subscription griffins and which were rejected for various reasons were sold by public auction yesterday.

There was only a very small attendance at the sale and the four ponies did not together aggregate the price of $100. One animal was sold for only $5, while the highest price paid was $35. These ponies were sold on condition that they be not raced at any time at the race meetings of the Hongkong Jockey Club.

The particulars of the ponies sold yesterday were as follows:—
Sub-Griffin No. 9—Black—4 1/2 years, $35.
Sub-Griffin No. 23—Bay—4 1/2 years $25.
Sub-Griffin No. 26—Bay—14 1/2 years $5.

RECORD DRIFT

Balloonists Have Trying Experience

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]
Lübach, Aug. 19.

According to further particulars received on Sunday night, about Cosyn's stratosphere flight, Professor Cosyns says he had reached an altitude of 16,000 metres. The whole flight passed off very satisfactorily, the weather being perfect and the journey having lasted only one hour longer than scheduled. The landing took place without mishap. Cosyns says that the scientific results of the flight were very gratifying.

The balloonists were very exhausted when they reached the earth again but were received very hospitably and thoroughly rejuvenated after a night's rest. The dismounting of the balloon began on Sunday morning. The instruments in the gondola were found to be in perfect condition. The balloon and gondola are being packed up for transport to Belgium.

800-MILE TRIP

Belgrade, August 19.
Professor Max Cosyns and his stratosphere flight companion, travelled nearly eight hundred miles in the course of their fifteen hours' journey through the upper air.

It is probable that since they drifted at the will of the winds the total distance covered was much greater and the speed of their cruise over Central Europe must have exceeded sixty miles an hour at times.

They landed at the village of Zenabje, where the inhabitants were at first terrified by the unexpected apparition of the enormous balloon slowly descending to earth in the darkening twilight.

Aeronauts Astonished

After overcoming their initial terror, however, the villagers helped to haul the balloon to earth.

Both Prof. Cosyns and Van der Elst were exhausted after their long trip, and they were astonished to learn that they were in Yugoslavia.

A defect in their radio apparatus prevented them from keeping in communication with the ground as planned.

Professor Cosyns said he had reached conclusions from his observations that would prove of great scientific importance.

PROFESSOR GOES ON HUNGER STRIKE

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]
Vienna, Aug. 20.

The well known Viennese University professor, Hugo Hasner, who has been arrested in connection with the abortive putsch has gone on hunger strike in his prison cell and has now been sent to hospital.

The entire property of Dr. Rintelen, the Chancellor designate of the putsch government has been confiscated.

FAREWELL TO SURREY

Vain Wait For An Invitation

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 4.

Jack Hobbs, the famous Surrey and England batsman, has been reluctantly compelled to retire from county cricket.

The public, which has idolised him for thirty years, will receive Hobbs's decision with regret and disappointment, especially as it was hoped that the Surrey club would give him the chance of scoring three more centuries and bringing his total to 200, thus enhancing a record likely to remain unbeaten for many years.

Hobbs took part in Surrey matches with comparative regularity until the middle of June, scoring 544 runs in thirteen completed innings, his average being over 40.

He assures me that he is prepared to go on playing for the county, but that he has waited in vain for further invitations. "I have now given up the idea of playing again," he tells me, "until the Folkestone festival, when I am to appear in two matches against the Australians."

"I shall also play in club cricket," for which I have had several invitations, notably from Cambridge, where I began as a boy on Parker's Piece.

No Difference With Surrey
"I would dearly have loved to get those three last centuries," he added.

It was at Old Trafford in May that he made 187 for once out, including a brilliant century, and as he returned to the pavilion a moving incident occurred. The members sang "Auld Lang Syne" softly in the beginning, but followed as he disappeared for what they felt would be the last time.

Prince von Starhemberg has arrived here by air from Vienna.

VOTING FOR HITLER

Some Wavering

Berlin, Aug. 20.

Although Herr Adolf Hitler scored a personal triumph by securing an overwhelming support for his succession to the late President Paul von Hindenburg as President, the plebiscite figures indicate, apparently, that at least 7,000,000 people in Germany are wavering in their allegiance to the Reich Leader and Chancellor. This figure is comprised of 4,275,248 "No" voters, 868,543 invalid voters, and 2,034,846 abstainers.

The figures are interesting in view of the pressure put on the nation to vote—in fact no opposition propaganda was permitted, and the fear, doubtless unfounded, of some voters that the ballot was not secret.

The vote for Chancellor Hitler decreased by 1,531,194, as compared with the Nazi poll at the Reichstag elections last November, although the electorate was increased by 23,966.

Most of the "No" votes came from the big cities, Berlin having 500,000 and Hamburg 187,990, despite Chancellor Hitler's recent visit, but in small towns and villages the number of "Yes" votes were overwhelming, doubtless partly owing to the fear of publicity and partly to the strong appeal of Herr Hitler's agricultural policy.

JEWS DENOUNCED

Reichsbishop Mueller, in an address to German Christians, paralleled Chancellor Hitler with Christ. He declared that the Reich Leader's fight was against Jews, the most brutal foes of Christianity.

"Germans may suffer tribulations, but they will win Christianity's victory, even if the Jews resolve to destroy the nation," he said.

Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen came from Vienna where he is the German Minister, to Berlin to record his vote.

The Propaganda Ministry has asked the people to keep all flags flying to-day in view of the "great victory."

The official, though provisional, final figures issued at 2 a.m., showed:

Total votes cast	43,529,710
Yes	38,362,700
No	4,275,248
Invalid	868,543

AIR "RAID" LESSONS

Comment on London's Vulnerability

The air "raids" on London are taken by the French Press to stress the vulnerability of London and the weakness of present defence methods in the face of enemy bombing planes.

"Le Temps" remarked some time ago that to defend the British Isles effectively the British air squadrons would have to be in France to forestall the enemy crossing the Channel.

This, added to Marshal Petain's speech on Sunday, in which he said that the next war would come with startling swiftness, has apparently given a large section of French public opinion the impression that "Great Britain at last realises the necessity for the closest collaboration of France and Great Britain in the spirit of the Entente Cordiale."

"The Echo de Paris," "Le Matin" and other newspapers say that London is insufficiently defended, and that in the case of an air attack a part of London would inevitably be destroyed under present conditions.

added, "I have had no difference with the Surrey authorities. My relations with them, indeed, are still very happy, and nobody realises better than I do that if I am constantly in and out of the team its balance may be upset. Nor would I like to be told that I am keeping younger players out of the side."

It was at Old Trafford in May that he made 187 for once out, including a brilliant century, and as he returned to the pavilion a moving incident occurred. The members sang "Auld Lang Syne" softly in the beginning, but followed as he disappeared for what they felt would be the last time.

DEATH ENQUIRY

Doctor's Presence
Desirable

A Coroner's inquiry was held at Central Magistracy yesterday into the death of a Chinese woman named Chan Tai Hei, aged 23 who was found in her house at No. 1 Tai Yuen Street, third floor, suffering from narcotic poisoning from which she subsequently died at the Government Civil Hospital.

Mr. E. W. Hamilton sat as Coroner, assisted by a jury comprised of Mr. D. O. da Silva (foreman), Mr. G. H. White and Mr. V. Petterick.

At the outset, the Coroner informed the jury that the enquiry was into the death of a Chinese female named Chan Tai Hei, aged 23, who resided at No. 1, Tai Yuen Street, third floor. She died at the Government Civil Hospital on the evening of July 14, and the reason for the lapse of time in holding the enquiry was that investigations had been made and the matter submitted to him, and he had come to the conclusion that it was an obvious case of suicide. Subsequently however, certain facts were brought to the attention of the police and he at once decided to reopen the case.

It was not actually a question of death by suicide or not, but taking into consideration the new facts that had been brought to light, he thought that the matter should be made public. Unfortunately through the lapse of time, the doctor who attended the deceased before she died was at present not in the Colony. He left for Canton on the day he decided to hold the enquiry, and had not yet returned.

The Coroner concluded by saying that the deceased was a concubine of a Chinese police officer who was on duty when she died.

Medical Evidence

Dr. G. H. Thomas of the Government Civil Hospital said that on July 14 at 7.40 a.m. deceased was admitted into the hospital. He did not see her until about 9.30 a.m. but before that he was sure that the house officer must have attended to her. He found deceased in a deeply comatose condition, suffering from narcotic poisoning. She died at 7.20 p.m. the same day.

Witness made a post mortem examination the following day and found no external marks of injury. The internal organs appeared to be normal with the exception of the left kidney which showed pathological changes.

The stomach contained a lot of dark food which he thought very much like "leung fan" (chinese black jelly) and when he filtered the stomach contents and applied the test for opium, he found narcotic acid.

Coroner: Was the kidney trouble sufficiently serious to cause death?

Dr. Thomas: Not in itself. If she had kidney trouble opium would affect her much more.

In answer to a further question, Dr. Thomas said that in his opinion the injection of orthophosphine sulphide was the correct method in this kind of case. A delay of 35 minutes in applying the injection would make no difference between life and death.

The cause of death was due to narcotic poisoning.

Case Adjourned

Mo Sang, Police constable C182, the husband of the deceased, told the Court that on account of his duties he had returned home late quite often, as a result of which his wife had accused him of being unfaithful.

On the night before the tragedy, he finished duty at 10 o'clock but did not return home until 11.30. His wife again accused him of being unfaithful, which he denied. She did not appear to be upset and they went to bed shortly after.

About 5 o'clock in the morning he heard his wife groaning as if she was in pain. He got up and noticed some froth in her mouth. Traces of opium were found on the chest of drawers as well as an opium pot. He then woke his fellow lodgers who came into the room and assisted in holding up the deceased. Later he asked one of them to go and fetch Dr. Li Ping Sum. After the man had gone to do so, witness went to go on duty at the Canton wharf, leaving the man and another lodger to look after the deceased.

A woman living on the same floor was then called. She made certain allegations and after hearing her evidence the Coroner informed the jury that he thought it would be most desirable for Dr. Li to be present or represented in

CANTEN BOY
COMMENDEDCHIEF JUSTICE CONGRATULATES
WITNESS FOR PROMPTITUDE
AND PLUCKMurder Trial At The Sessions

"Before you go, I would like to say that I think you acted with very great promptitude and very great pluck. You are to be congratulated on what you did." Thus spoke the Chief Justice yesterday to a Chinese canteen boy, employed by the N.A.A.F.I. in Murray Barracks. The boy was giving evidence in a case in which a Chinese named Ng Loi Xuen was charged with the murder of Michael Pine on June 22 last.

The boy described how he jumped into the nullah and in spite of the fact that he was carried away by the rush of water did his best to rescue Mary Pine. He had hold of her on three occasions but each time lost his hold. Nevertheless he followed the little girl as she drifted down the nullah and ultimately rescued her.

How Accused Was Arrested

The Crown is represented by Mr. J. A. Fraser, Assistant Attorney General, and Mr. R.C.H. Lim, instructed by Mr. J. M. Hall of Messrs. Lyson and Hall is for the defence.

The following jury was empanelled: Messrs. E. W. Blackmore (foreman), C. M. Correa, Lawrence Wong, F. J. Remedios, Otto Ketchell, H. A. Alves and H. G. Meekie. Prisoner pleaded not guilty.

In his opening for the Crown, Mr. Fraser detailed the rescues of four other children, Mary Pine, Fay Bromley, Tony Flood and Norman Stone, and went on to say that Michael Pine and a Chinese prisoner were swept into the tunnel the mouth of which is near the V.R.C. Michael Pine was rescued by Private O'Kelley, of the South Wales Borderers, from the harbour, and was sent to the Government Civil Hospital where he died.

"The finding of the accused was rather dramatic," continued Mr. Fraser. "The leading soldier, Pte. Simmonds, was feeling his way up the tunnel by the aid of a concrete pipe by running his hand along it. Suddenly he found a man in contact with him. It was very dark at the time and the only light there was was fed by grating. He spoke to the man but received no reply.

"He then put his hand on the man's shoulder and was bitten. That soldier with Private McCarthy tried to bring him out of the tunnel but were prevented by his struggles and by the flow of the water. Two other soldiers came and they frog-marched him out. He had his head downwards. The accused became unconscious and when he was taken out of the nullah artificial respiration was applied.

Smell of Alcohol

Mr. Fraser added that when the accused was taken to hospital he said that he had been drinking. He smelt of alcohol and a sample of urine was taken and sent to the Government Analyst.

The accused was identified by Mary Pine, Mrs. T. G. Fairburn and two European ladies who saw him floating, as well as a straw hat which he had been wearing. The accused was dressed in a white jacket, black trousers and wore the straw hat.

Mr. Fraser continued: "On the morning of June 21, the accused came to a shop in Pedder Street where he had been employed four years ago. Apparently it had been his intention to go to Singapore and through some mistake he had been landed in Hong Kong without any money. He spent the night at the shop and was seen to leave some time the next morning.

Attempted Suicide

"He had in his possession a basket which the police searched and found three letters, one of which may give some little clue as to the motive for this crime.

"To that letter there is some objection and I do not propose to read it to you at the present moment. While the accused was in hospital, he removed a plaster of Paris from his broken leg, about the same time that two other prisoners escaped from the detention ward.

"On coming out of hospital he was charged and in a statement he said that he was drunk at the time.

At the Magistrate's in reply to the Magistrate, he made a statement which is more in keeping with the case for the Crown. He stated: "I have no money, therefore I commit suicide."

"The case for the Crown," said Mr. Fraser "is that the accused being in the Colony by some unfortunate accident and against his wish, and without money, made an attempt to commit suicide. In that act he may have been influenced by the state of his affairs at the time. Gentlemen, do not depend too much on these letters which I have referred to. I don't want to make history of them. If you find that they throw any light on the case, then I am sure you will give them your careful consideration."

It was for the jury, said Mr. Fraser, to be satisfied of the guilt of the accused, also whether there were extenuating circumstances which were an excuse for his action, or whether the extenuating circumstances, merely aggravated the offence.

Medical Evidence

Dr. D. J. Valentine in evidence stated that Michael Pine was unconscious when admitted. He was suffering from the effects of immersion and had many wounds and bruises about the body. The injuries were compatible with a fall into a nullah from a height of about six feet. The cause of death was fracture of the skull.

Child Takes Oath

Before Mary Pine was called, Mr. Fraser said that since her appearance at the Magistrate's she had been instructed to the meaning and nature of an oath.

FATHER AND SON
SENTENCEDSequel To Village
Scuffle

Sentence of three months' hard labour was passed at the Criminal Sessions yesterday by Mr. Justice Jackson on Mok Ti-pang, 40, and Mok Kan-hing, 21, father and son, who were found guilty by the jury on a manslaughter charge.

The death related to is that of Chan Man which followed a village affray on July 5.

The jury comprised Messrs. H. Braga (foreman), O. B. Raven, J. Kempton, H. P. Allgood, S. A. Bux, H. A. Castro and A. G. dos Remedios.

Appearing for the Crown, Mr. W. J. Lockhart-Smith, Assistant Crown Solicitor, told a story of a village feud between two families.

Three days before the crime, he stated, the wife of Chan Man, the man who was killed, disappeared from her home, taking her youngest son with her. The husband then accused Mok Kan-hing of having abducted his wife.

That led to bad feeling, and to a row on the morning in question in a marshed where Chan Man lived with his two sons.

The incident that followed was then described by the Assistant Crown Solicitor in detail. Briefly, it amounted to an allegation of the two men in the dock being the aggressors and their using an iron bar and a hoe-shaft as offensive weapons.

Two sons of Chan Man and a friend, Chan Yung, who was visiting them, were compelled to flee one after the other, and subsequently the two men now being charged were seen to leave the marshed and to strike Chan Man again when he made to follow them.

Chan Man died very shortly afterwards from his serious injuries.

Later in the day, the two accused were overtaken by Detective Inspector Doring in a car as they were on their way to Castle Peak from Heung Che village. They were still carrying the weapons.

At the close of the case for the Crown, the elder defendant claimed that he was not the aggressor while the younger man stated that he was not at the scene of the scuffle at all.

The jury returned a verdict of "Guilty" and his Lordship sentenced each man to three months' hard labour. In doing so he remarked that he was taking into consideration the fact that the deceased was in a poor physical condition, according to the medical evidence. That did not exonerate the defendants from blame, but there was an element of misfortune in the case.

Mr. Lim said he could not agree with Mr. Fraser that the girl's evidence could only be given on oath. Even if she did understand the oath, her evidence was still inadmissible.

His Lordship: I am against you, Mr. Lim. The question is entirely an academic one. If this child understands the meaning and nature of the oath, I propose to administer it to her.

Mr. Lim: I am entirely at your Lordship's discretion.

His Lordship agreed to note Mr. Lim's objection.

"Do you know that it is wrong to tell lies?" asked his Lordship of Mary Pine, when she took her seat in the witness stand. "Yes," she replied.

His Lordship: You are here to tell us what you remember of what you saw and heard on that day—Yes.

"That Man" Fraser who threw her into the nullah, she replied (pointing her finger at the accused in the dock): "That man over there. He held me in the nullah and hit me. He threw Michael in but I do not remember him doing anything else to him." She said she identified the accused at the Central Police Station, also a straw hat.

Replying to defence counsel, witness said she had been down the nullah before with other children. Mrs. Fairburn giving evidence repeated what she had said at the Magistrate's proceedings. She described how a man threw a boy into the nullah, and then a girl and finally climbed over the rails and dropped in himself.

Cross-examined by Mr. Lim, witness said she could not tell the colour of the girl's clothing.

Mr. Lim put to the witness a number of questions from the depositions and His Lordship directed that the witness' evidence at the Magistrate be read to the jury.

GRIM DISCOVERY

Japanese Woman
Found Dead

The body of a Japanese woman named Mrs. Marunaga, a well known masseuse, was found in a semi-nude state and with a number of wounds, in her flat on the ground floor of No. 583, Nathan Road, Mongkok yesterday morning.

The unfortunate woman who lived alone, without any servants, had not been seen since last Friday, and the grim discovery was made by police officers summoned by alarmed neighbours who had knocked persistently at the door without receiving any response.

The body was lying half across the doorway between the hall dining room and the bedroom, and the floor was stained by blood from wounds in the forehead and in the left temple over the eye. The injury to the forehead appears to have been caused by some blunt instrument which, however, could not be found.

Dr. Smally, medical officer in charge of the Kowloon Hospital was summoned and pronounced death as having occurred between 24 and 48 hours previous to the discovery.

The house was in great disorder having apparently been thoroughly ransacked, and the motive is suspected to be robbery.

So far no arrests have been made.

Kaifeng, August 7.

Chao Hsien-Lung, the eldest son of Gen. Chao Ti former tuchun of the province, declaring that, when alive, his father bought houses and other properties, which cost millions of dollars, in Tientsin, Shanghai, and Kaifeng, and that all the properties have been seized by his father's concubine with her two sons. In conclusion, the eldest son requests help from the people to help him to get back the properties. When Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang was in Honan, all Gen. Chao's properties were confiscated for educational funds. In Junan, Gen. Chao's native town, he had 800,000 mow of fertile land. More than 500,000 mow of the land were confiscated.

Gen. Liu Chih, chairman of the province, has telegraphed to Mr. Wang Ching-wei, chairman of the Executive Yuan, stating that urgent relief is needed in Honan, as more than 40 hsiens or districts are suffering either from flood or from drought, and 30 districts from banditry. In reply, Mr. Wang Ching-wei, stated that he had instructed the Ministry of Finance and the National Famine Relief Association to allot funds to relieve the famine in Honan.

Mr. Chang Chung-lu, former president of Honan University here, has been appointed a member of the Provincial Government. As the presidency is uncertain, Mr. Tu Shu-sheng, manager of the university, is appointed as the acting president.

In Chehsien, on Honan-Shansi border, cholera is now prevailing, with the result that nine persons died of the disease within one day.

Train Accident

Two freight trains of the Kihnan Railway collided at Chuchawnan station in Southern Honan, yesterday. The locomotives were entirely destroyed and train crews injured. The total loss is estimated at $300,000. Due to inundation on the Honan-Chihli border, one section of the Kihnan railway was washed away on August 5. As a result, communication has been interrupted for some time.

The Communist-bandits seem to be active on the Honan-Hupeh-Ahwei border. The 10th Red Army, about 3,000 in number, are disturbing Huang-chuan. The 25th Red Division and the Independent Red Division, about 2,000 in number, are disturbing Lo-shan. The Red Guard Group and the Red Farmers Association, about 2,000 in number, are disturbing Kuangshan.

Evidence of the rescuing of the various children involved was given by several witnesses including Li Wing Hon, the canteen boy mentioned above. The case was adjourned until this morning.

AS WE LOOK FORWARD

Encouraging forecasts are charted and announced, carrying always a reassuring promise of good times coming. Peoples of every age and every country look forward hopefully, with a realization that, behind the clouds which tend to obscure the vision, there shines the sun of happiness and prosperity. Recently Mr. Henry Ford cheered millions of his fellow countrymen by expressing the conviction that the years to come will surpass the years gone in bringing genuine social and economic progress to the people. One need not believe Mr. Ford's true prophet to accept this forecast. Men and women, particularly citizens of great nations, and impartial in its application and enforcement there are no delays, no miscarriages of justice.

Mr. Henry Rainey

St. Henry T. Rainey, Speaker in the House of Representatives and Democratic representative from Illinois, has passed away.

—Reuter

Henry Thomas Rainey, was born at Carrollton, Illinois, on August 20, 1860. He took his B.A. degree at Amherst in 1883, M.A. in 1886, and LL.B. at the Union College of Law, Chicago.

usually progressive and prosperous, refuse to accept defeat or yield to discouragement. But in recent years there has come into the experiences of many, a persistent fear that basic changes have destroyed or dislocated the economic structural machinery which has come to seem the foundation rather than the mere outward expression of harmonious existence. An era of disillusionment, bringing with it, convincing evidences of the transitory value of those things which many had regarded as substantial and permanent, unquestionably has caused many thoughtful persons to seek a basis of true and actual values.

What is to bring, and what is to insure, the permanency of these better conditions? Is some new and untried formula to be prescribed not as a palliative, but as a specific? Disillusionment has not engendered impatience. It has rather, inspired a definite and hopeful search for the finer and more substantial things, visible and invisible, which sustain and satisfy. In this search it is being discerned that greed and fear are the lions in the path which must be met and overcome. These have too long appeared as the most persistent and aggressive enemies and destroyers of human happiness.

If we doubt this let us indulge in careful self-analysis of those human motives and human hindrances which, in retrospect, are clearly apparent and easily recognizable. "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" That question asked centuries ago, has been answered again and again in the bitter experiences of uncounted thousands in this generation of men and women. These experiences have verified and confirmed the conclusive declaration upon which the question was predicated. Those who look hopefully forward need not be discouraged or too deeply concerned because the world has not been transformed and redeemed from greed, selfishness and baseless fears in the years that have passed since the teaching and preaching of the Nazarene brought the clear ray of light to a benighted and superstitious people. By line upon line, precept upon precept, Truth impresses itself finally and convincingly upon the consciousness of those who, willingly or unwillingly, listen and learn to understand.

We should look forward, hopefully and with assurance claiming as a rightful fruitage of past experiences, and as a result of lessons well learned, the brighter and better things which are the first rewards of right thinking. The law of compensation is irrevocable.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS AT LORD'S

Rugby's Easy Victory

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 4.

Tragedy befell Marlborough at Lord's yesterday. In less than an hour and a half the whole side was out for 88, and Rugby were left with only 15 to make in order to win. This they did for the loss of one wicket.

There is very little excuse for a side as strong in batting as Marlborough, but the morning was very unpleasant for the batsmen. The light was very bad, and the ball rose at varying heights, and was coming off the pitch at a pace too slow to suit the aggressive style of the Marlborough batsmen. They all played too soon at the ball and were continually playing forward when they should have been playing back.

Fletcher alone played, the bowling with any confidence, and without his score the Marlborough total would indeed look miserable. The whole Rugby team deserve praise for their most efficient team-work, inspired to a great extent by their captain, who had a most successful match. Their bowlers all bowled very steadily and, with one exception, and that an almost impossible one, all the catches were held.

A Series of Disasters

When Marlborough continued their innings for a time there did not seem much trouble, but at 19 Jelf mistimed a ball from West and was caught at short-leg. Heyland was bowled first ball by a ball well up to him which shall the sake of charity be called a yorker. Fletcher and Hooper then made the only stand of the innings, and they had added 30 when Hooper, who had several times lifted the ball dangerously near to fields, was caught and bowled. Whitehouse and Harbottle, who followed him, both refused to take heed from what had gone before and were also caught and bowled. Dickson, owing perhaps to the light, was bowled by a full pitch which hit the base of his off-stump. Six wickets were down in 79 runs, and Marlborough's last hope, Hewan, joined Fletcher. Before another run had been scored Fletcher went right forward to Walford and was stumped. He had watched the ball most carefully and had had to bat both on Wednesday night and yesterday morning to a variation of gloom and drizzle.

For a brief moment the hopes of Marlborough were raised when Hewan hit two successive balls from Walford to the boundary, but off the next he was well caught at the second attempt by mid-on. The last two wickets failed and a run, for after Cheales had been well caught at the wicket O'Regan hit the first ball he received straight at Chadwick.

Marlborough did manage to get one Rugby wicket, before the necessary runs were scored.

WHAT YOU CONNECT I CUT

A clergyman of Hartford wrote a punning jingle many years ago, at a time when the Connecticut Legislature granted divorces. His verse was to the effect that while he, as a clergyman, connected the couples in marriage, the Legislature cut them apart by divorce proceedings. This is the verse:

"For CUTTING all CONNECTIONS famed, CONNECT-I-CUT is fairly named; I twain CONNECT in one; but you CUT those whom I CONNECT in two.

Each legislator seems to say, 'What you... CONNECT-I-CUT away'."

AUSTRALIA PUTS UP COLOSSAL TOTAL OF 701

BUT ENGLAND ALSO PROMISES HUGE SCORE

Promise Of Grim Fight To A Finish

WALTERS AND SUTCLIFFE START WELL

The final Test which is in progress at the Oval promises to be a gruelling fight to the finish, if the second day's play is to be taken as an indication of how the match will go. After scoring 475 for two wickets on the first day, Australia lost her remaining wickets for 226 runs, thus totalling 701 runs for the first innings. Nothing daunted, England went out to bat, Walters and Sutcliffe opening the innings in anything but ideal light put on 90 without being separated when stumps were drawn.

The wicket on this historic ground may be described as a batsman's paradise, but in spite of that England's bowlers got the upper hand again towards the end of Australia's innings. Bowes was particularly prominent, at one spell taking three wickets in four overs.

There was some slight demonstration when Woodfull "ducked" several times under Bowes' "bumpers" but the spectators otherwise were "extremely fair," cheering both sides when occasion demanded.

The final Test will go down in history as a memorable match in that the second wicket stand record was beaten while Australia's total of 701 is the second highest in the history of the Tests.

Ponsford The Australian Hero

London, Aug. 20.

There was some delay in the start on the second day of the final Test, a slight drizzle which fell at 10.30 a.m. being the cause of the lateness in the start. After half-an-hour, however, the wicket was pronounced fit for play and Wyatt led his team out to the field to be followed almost immediately by Ponsford (205) and Stan McCabe (1), the two not outs.

Allen was given the ball to open the bowling and McCabe hit him crisply for a two to complete his thousandth run in the Tests. Clark, bowling from the other end, set his field with a leg trap consisting of Hammond, Verity, Allen and Sutcliffe with Woolley as the lone slip.

Although much was expected off this pair of batsmen, they disappointed their supporters badly as McCabe had, his middle-stump knocked off in Allen's second over, "Stan" only adding nine to his overnight score—488—3—10.

BOUNDARIES AND JEERS

As was generally expected, Woodfull was the next man in and shaped confidently against the fast bowlers. With successive boundaries, Ponsford brought the total to 501 in 370 minutes. About this stage Bowes was given the ball and the crowd jeered as Ponsford walked away from this bowler's bumpers. Ponsford, however, replied to the jeers by scoring three boundaries off Hammond's third over. Play by this time had been in progress for 420 minutes and ten minutes later Ponsford reached his 250. Up till now he had scored one five and 26 fours, delightful cutting being the keynote of his innings.

AN UNHAPPY END

In the meantime, Ponsford and his captain went on scoring at a steady rate, and despite the frequent changes in the bowling they did not look at all like getting out. Allen then came on for a final onslaught, before lunch. Ponsford cut him crisply for a four and off the next delivery he turned back again, as if to hook the fast bowler, but alas he did this once too often and paid the full penalty when he trod on his own wicket. It was indeed an unhappy ending to a magnificent if somewhat chancy innings, and if the crowd greeted this with a terrific shout, it must be said that they also gave Ponsford the great ovation he deserved. Strong cutting was the feature of his innings which may best be described as an all-round display of superb batsmanship. He was at the wickets for 435 minutes, scoring 15 fives and 27 fours during that time.

Kippax came in and played out the over after which a halt was made for lunch. The total being 574 for 4 while Woodfull was not out for 25.

WOODFULL OUT

The crowd had increased considerably when play was resumed after lunch, Woodfull and Kippax being content to play themselves in again. Despite the slight drizzle in the morning, the wicket was "wearing well" though Bowes did come up awkwardly now and again. The Australians however, went about their business of runs gathering in an unperturbed manner and had in fact carried the total to 626 before losing their next wicket—Woodfull being bowled by Bowes when only one short of his half century.

THE LEG THEORY

Twenty-thousand people watched Clark bowling the leg-theory with five fielders on the leg-side before lunch and an over-throw for four brought the Australians' total to 602 after play had been in progress for 485 minutes. Between periods of ducking which was jeered by the crowd, Woodfull powerfully cut the short ones from Bowes but this bowler reaped his reward when he sent down one which kept very low and shattered Woodfull's wicket—623—5—49. Woodfull batted very stolidly for 150 minutes, scoring 1 five and only 2 fours in the course of compiling his 49 runs.

"THE PERENNIAL QUESTION"

"The perennial question" in other words the l.b.w. decision, was once again to the fore when Kippax stopped one from Bowes with his legs and was starting to run a leg-by when the bowler's appeal was upheld by the umpire. Kippax, who had scored 28 in what may be described as a stylish innings, appeared to resent the decision. The position was now 631—6—28.

Oldfield joined Chipperfield only to see the latter bowled neck and crop by Bowes who hit the middle stump after only seven runs had been added to the total. The outgoing batsman had only scored three and at this stage Bowes took three wickets in four overs. Oldfield batted very confidently and scored his thousandth run in Test matches.

GRIMMETT COMES AND GOES

Grimmett came in to fill the breach when Chipperfield was out and together with Oldfield he carried the score to 676 with the latter doing most of the scoring. At this point, Grimmett nibbled at one from Allen and was caught behind the sticks by Ames—676—8—7. Worse was to follow for Oldfield, the new-comer, had only scored two when he was bowled, the total being 682 for 9.

The next man in was O'Reilly and though he made only seven runs he stayed long enough to see the score pass the 700 mark for it was not till the total had reached 701 that he was bowled, by Clark for 7.

Oldfield was, therefore, undefeated, having collected 42 runs during his stay at the wickets and at a time when the English bowlers were sending down some good bowling. He was at the wicket for one and a half hour while Australia's innings spread over 605 wickets. "Mr. Extras" was very partial towards the Australians, contributing no less than 33 to their total.

Thus the Australians' innings closed for 701 runs which was only 28 runs behind the highest total in the Test series between the two countries, the best score being 729 for 6 declared, by Australia at Lord's in 1930, when Australia won by seven wickets.

AN EXCELLENT START

Faced with the task of scoring 702 runs for a lead in the first innings, England were in no way perturbed and went about their business in a most admirable manner.

C. F. Walters and Herbert Sutcliffe, hero of many a Test innings, went out to open England's innings and so completely did they master the bowling that they put together 90 runs without being separated when stumps were drawn.

The wicket was still wearing well and although the batsmen appeared to be a little tired after the long spell of leather-hunting, they scored with delightful freedom especially Walters who left his "veteran" partner behind. He had scored 59 to Sutcliffe's 31. Sutcliffe appeared to be content to choose the loose ones to punish but Walters was exceedingly enterprising and his cutting and placing to leg especially were a treat to watch. They were accorded a tremendous ovation when they returned to the pavilion, happy but tired and with their wickets intact.

LESS ENTHUSIASM

London, Aug. 20. A cloudless sky with a very remote possibility of rain, are the prospects for the test to-day. There was the usual all-night queue, but it was one of the smallest for many years and no comparison with Friday night. There were barely 200 which severely depressed street vendors, conjurers and entertainers who had a very small trade.

Everything goes to point that the Australians' vast total has already downhearted the public who say that the "Ashes" are certain to go to Australia. Only real cricket enthusiasts and those relishing record breaking feats will appear at the Oval to-day.

The wicket was protected throughout the week-end during the night. Members of the Oval staff and plain-clothes men were stationed at secret sentry boxes with powerful torch lights with which they continually threw beams on the turf, walls and pathways.

WEATHER CHANGING

London, Aug. 20. The weather is changing. It is becoming gusty and dull, but the queue outside the ground is increasing. At 9 o'clock some 4,000 had gathered. Conversations turned on

MAJORITY VOTE FOR HITLER

Negative Votes Not A Sign Of Decay

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, August 20, 4.30 p.m.)

Berlin, Aug. 20.

The German nation by an overwhelming vote of confidence confirmed Adolf Hitler in his new office as Fuehrer and as Chancellor and as the whole head of the German nation.

Hitler's victory is complete and his unique triumph forms a subject for enthusiastic articles in the German Press.

A flood of congratulatory messages has begun pouring into Hitler's residence. The leader succeeded in mustering almost ninety per cent of the votes in his favour. Only ten per cent of the electorate voted against him and 95.7 per cent of those entitled to vote took part in the elections.

In Hamburg where the Fuehrer delivered his epoch making speech amid scenes of unprecedented enthusiasm, the polls show unfavourable returns, only 79.7 per cent voted "Yes" while 20.5 per cent cast "No" votes.

It must be recalled that Hamburg is Germany's chief exporting centre and was hard hit by the depression.

Uh Berlin 81.5 per cent voted for Hitler and 18.5 per cent against Hitler.

BAROMETER OF OPINION

The 4,000,000 "No" voters in entire Germany as against 37,000,000 "Yes" voters have not perturbed National Socialist Germany according to influential quarters.

These "No" votes only tend to prove that the ballot was absolutely independent and secret "recalcitrant" voters so the Press affirms may be traced to certain reactionary parties and their opposition is considered immaterial.

The National Socialist Party's correspondence says history knows no example of such manifestation of confidence of a people towards their head.

It is pointed out that Hitler obtained double the number of votes which von Hindenburg was able to muster in the last Presidential campaign.

FINAL RETURNS

The final returns given out early this morning are:

"Yes" votes ..... 38,362,276
"No" votes ..... 4,294,654
Invalid votes ..... 827,296

The number of people entitled to vote was 45,473,635.

The papers ask where in Europe is a man who can boast of a similar success. Germany can now settle down to peace and work—Transocean Kuo Min.

ABSOLUTE RECOGNITION

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, August 20, 7.30 p.m.)

Berlin, Aug. 20.

Among the German Press comments on Hitler's sweeping victory, one of the most noticeable is by Alfred Rosenberg in "Voelkischer Beobachter." Rosenberg points out that at no previous election or plebiscite did the National Socialist appear as the sole factor on the scene with the claim to absolute recognition and their exclusive right to rule.

The plebiscite of November 12 last year was a manifestation relating to the foreign policy of such a kind that the entire nation could and indeed had to show unanimity irrespective of heterogeneous political temperaments. Similarly at the Reichstag election the same candidates were not exclusively National Socialists but included representatives of the former Centre party as well as of Steelhelmets. But with the decision to unite the functions of the Reichspresident with those of the Chancellor, the leader of National Socialism has become the supreme head of the State as well as the Reichschancellor.

Foreign countries are now placed before the fact that the German nation is henceforth united under a single leader, backed by the entire people, and the foreign governments will no longer be able to refuse the solemnly promised equality rights—Transocean Kuo Min.

BRITISH PRESS COMMENT

London, Aug. 20.

The surprising number of negative votes in the German plebiscite is the main theme of British comment.

The "News Chronicle" says it has Dr. Goebbels' authority for regarding this as a sign of decay.

The "Daily Telegraph," however, says that the thoroughness of the campaign must be admired as a lesson to political organisers everywhere.

The "Manchester Guardian" says that believing as the great majority do that the alternative to Hitlerism is chaos, the people naturally voted for Hitler.

FRENCH PRESS VERDICT

Paris, Aug. 20.

The plebiscite proves nothing which has not brought Hitler new prestige, is the verdict of the French Press. The "Echo de Paris" declares Hitler has definitely lost inasmuch as the plebiscite was designed to increase his prestige in foreign eyes.

The "Matin" thinks that while Hitler lost some popular esteem, he has reinforced his political position.

POLLING BEGINS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Berlin, Aug. 19.

At 8 o'clock throughout the Reich, the polling at the great plebiscite when the German nation was asked to endorse the step taken by the Government amalgamating once and for all the offices of Reichspresident and Reichschancellor in the person of Hitler, was closed. Although it is still too early to give specific figures about the result, enough votes have been counted so far to indicate that at least 90 per cent of those entitled to participate recorded their votes. The reason why this can be stated so early is that as soon as the polling booths were opened at 8 o'clock this morning, the voters in all parts of the Reich rushed to do their duty so that by mid-day between 70 and 80 per cent of registered voters had recorded their votes.

ABSENTEE VOTES

From all parts of Germany the same news was received that the polling took place on a scale never hitherto known. One characteristic feature of this plebiscite was that travellers were enabled to vote on the railway stations. Before 11 o'clock over ten thousand votes were cast on the chief railway station at Munich. Another noteworthy feature was the absentee vote of those away from home for which special voting forms were made out. About one fifth of the people in Munich applied for these absentee forms while in the cities, Saxony no less than 130,000 applications for such were received. Another interesting feature was the vote of Germans living outside the Reich, who crossed the frontier expressly to record their votes. A special train was chartered from Brussels to Cologne to bring the members of the German colony who first of all voted and then spent the day sightseeing. At Aix la Chapelle, numerous parties of Germans arrived from Holland while the German Consul-General at Kattowitz recorded a receipt of 3,200 votes. The German nationals living in the free city of Danzig went to the seaside resort in Zoppot where they boarded German steamers that carried them out to sea beyond the three mile limit and voted on board. In Munich which was Hitler's headquarters during his long years of struggle to power, enthusiasm ran exceptionally high, all polling booths being decorated by fir tree branches and a picture of the Fuehrer.

The day began with marching through the streets of twenty-five brass bands wakening the citizens and calling them to the business of the day. Very soon the streets were thronged with people making their way to the nearest voting station. At Neudeck where Hindenburg's home is situated all those entitled to vote had been to the polls by midday, every one of the 98 votes cast being "yes," that is, for Hitler. Every member of the German colony in Hong-kong recorded their votes, all going aboard the North German

CHANCELLOR HITLER

Lloyd steamer "Bremerhaven" which sailed out to sea so as to enable the votes to be legally recorded.

CROSSING THE FRONTIER

The Saar territory could not take part in the Plebiscite but at least was able to indicate its solidarity with the Fuehrer and the Reich by a display of German national colours, almost every house in the territory being gaily decked with bunting. The Germans of the Reich living in the Saar crossed the frontier to vote. In the prison of Stadelheim near Munich, 58 votes were cast, 51 being "yes." The total votes cast in Munich's public hospitals, work camps and gaols were 1,732 of which 1,603 were "yes."

In the Jewish old men's home at Prenzlauerberg near Berlin, 98 votes were recorded, 94 being "yes." The German colony in Istanbul also went out to sea on the steamer "Alta," 490 votes being recorded and of these 458 were "yes."

At Regensburg a touching tribute to the devotion and loyalty towards Hitler was shown by a woman who on her deathbed insisted on exercising her vote. No sooner had she completed the formality than she passed away.

EVERYBODY VOTES

Reports from dozens other cities and towns throughout the Reich reveal that the same spirit prevailed everywhere. After 8 o'clock in the morning, long queues of people lined up waiting for their turn to use the voting cabins. In the free city of Danzig, 2350 had voted on the steamer "Sassnitz" on the first trip out to sea and later trips carried even more passengers so that the number of 8,000 recorded at the last Plebiscite in November was much exceeded. Among the number were several old women over 90 years of age who had to be carried on board and accompanied by Red cross attendants. The old cathedral city of Cologne was converted into a sea of bunting. At various points great bronze busts of the Fuehrer were erected and encircled with laurel wreaths. By 2 o'clock over 1700 sailors and officers at Kiel had cast their votes, everyone of them being "yes." Of 341 votes cast at Reval, Estonia, 333 voted "yes."—Transocean Kuo Min.

"QUIET CELEBRATIONS"

Berlin, Aug. 20.
Hitler's victory was celebrated quietly in Berlin, a steady downpour of rain dampening the spirits of the crowd in the Wilhelmstrasse, who watched a torchlight procession of cheering Storm Troopers march past the Chancellor, who appeared at the window of the Chancellery amid a roar of applause—Reuter.

"LOST GROUND"

Berlin, Aug. 19.
Although Hitler's victory is not in doubt and although after mid-night he will undoubtedly be able to claim an overwhelming majority, the figures of votes counted up to the present time show that he has lost ground in the country as compared with the voting in the Reichstag election of November, 1933, when he had a following of 92.1 per cent of the electorate. Figures at 9.30 p.m. show that with about 90 per cent of the electorate going to the polls, his followers are about eighty-two per cent.

Latest incomplete figures for the whole of Germany, are
Yes ..... 13,168,208
No ..... 1,520,356

RETURNS DELAYED

The official provisional final figures give the electorate as 45,202,887 and the votes cast as 43,287,821, as follows:
Yes ..... 38,124,030
No ..... 4,275,248
Invalid ..... 888,543
Electors participating totalled 95.7 per cent.

THE AMERICA CUP

Vanitie To Test Out Endeavour

The America Cup challenger Endeavour, with Mr. and Mrs. Sopwith and the designer Mr. Nicholson abroad, stretched a new mainsail for five hours in a twenty-mile spin.

Mr. Sopwith has accepted an offer from Mr. Gerard Blambert, owner of the American yacht Vanitie, to hold a series of matches beginning on August 24. This has caused great surprise since it is the first time an American yacht is used to test out a defender. It will be recalled that in 1930 the Resolute offered to test out Shamrock V which was turned down by Sir Thomas Lipton.

America's challenger is being decided on the result of the trials starting on August 22 for which Vanitie will be ineligible. It seems certain that the challenger will be the Vanderbilt syndicate's Rainbow or the Boston syndicate's Yankee. The latter has been beating Rainbow in various races until recently when the Rainbow took in extra ballast which has been very successful. She has beaten the Yankee in the last two races, the last of which was on Saturday when the Rainbow won the King's Cup over a thirty-three mile course, beating Yankee by three minutes.

M. BARTHOUS VISIT TO ROME

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Paris, Aug. 20.

It is understood that M. Barthou's projected visit to Rome has been fixed for October 10. Official confirmation, however, is still lacking—Transocean Kuo Min.

Of the votes cast, 89.9 per cent were "Yes" and 10.1 per cent "Noes."

The returns from a few districts have been delayed, but they can have no effect on the result—

38,000,000 IN FAVOUR

It is learned that all the votes have now been counted but the official result has not yet been issued.

The unofficial provisional final figures, revealing that 43,338,382 votes were cast, are as follows:
Yes ..... 38,168,286
No ..... 4,280,471
Invalid ..... 889,625

MANY VOTES REJECTED

The latest partial count of the votes for the whole of Germany show that 33,312,490 have so far been counted and checked, the voting being:
Yes ..... 29,404,044
No ..... 3,260,442
Invalid ..... 648,004
The number of invalid votes is surprisingly large and it is taken for granted that by far the greater proportion of them may be regarded as "No" votes—Reuter.

UNOFFICIAL FIGURES

Berlin, Aug. 20.
Unofficial final figures indicate that out of an electorate of 45,968,743, the votes cast totalled 43,338,382, as follows:
Yes ..... 38,279,514
No ..... 4,287,808
Invalid ..... 871,060

Participation in the voting totalled 94.2 per cent as compared with 92.1 in the Reichstag election last year.
Ignoring the invalid votes, 88.1 per cent of the people who voted to-day and 83.1 per cent of the whole electorate voted for Hitler—Reuter.

GERMANY AND THE SAAR

Hitler's Speech To Deputation

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, August 20, 7.30 p.m.)

Berlin, Aug. 20.

From his window at the Chancellery on Monday forenoon Chancellor Hitler delivered a short speech to a deputation of the inhabitants of the Saar region who assembled before the palace Wilhelmstrasse.

After referring to the new proof of their unity furnished yesterday to the German people, the Chancellor went on to assure his hearers that the German people were just as united in the burning wish to see the Saar region reunited with Germany. All Germans who belong to one another by virtue of the treaties must stand together. Hence the entire German people will accompany the Saar plebiscite on January 13 with the earnest prayer in the conviction that the passion of the Saar region will thereby come to an end.

Germany, so Hitler declared, respects the treaties and asks for nothing more than that others should likewise respect them. The Chancellor added that his happiest hope will be when instead of welcoming the inhabitants of the Saar region in Berlin, he will be able to go for the first time into their land. The Chancellor's speech was enthusiastically applauded—Transocean Kuo Min.

KING WINS CUP OUTRIGHT

Yachting Victory At Bournemouth

(Special Air-Mail Service.)

Bournemouth, Aug. 4.

The King's yacht, Britannia, in spite of a cracked mast gained her first success of the season to-day in the Bournemouth regatta, writes a correspondent. She won outright the Bournemouth Cup, presented by Alderman Bishop in 1924.

Shamrock V. arrived too late, and did not take part in the race. Velsheda took second prize, beating Astra by four seconds.

The conditions of the trophy provide that it must be won three times by the same yacht-owner. His Majesty's previous victories with Britannia were in 1924 and 1933.

The old vessel has not found the weather suitable during the present summer. To-day, however, in a strong westerly wind, sometimes having a touch of north off the land, she sailed in her best form. The fine Bournemouth course provided an excellent sailing test. It was, indeed, the best race I have seen this season.

BRITANNIA'S MISHAP

Everybody wondered why Britannia appeared to suddenly stop when passing Bournemouth pier at the finish. It looked for a moment as if she were about to retire from the race she was so handsomely winning.

Sir Philip Hunkles told me afterwards that the reason he was obliged to luff-up the Britannia and lower her fore-staysail was that a large crack suddenly appeared in her mast below the deck. He feared at first that if he continued the race the yacht would carry away her mast.

Britannia had sailed so grandly that he was loth to give up when victory seemed certain. They therefore managed temporarily to bind the cracked part with wire rope, and, being a long way ahead, sailed under easy canvas and won the cup.

When Britannia arrived at Cowes Mr. Charles Nicholson was in attendance to make the necessary repairs. Mr. Nicholson told me that Britannia's engagement in Cowes will not be affected. Britannia's mast is a hollow wooden structure, and as the crack is at the bottom, it can easily be repaired with steel bands.

PRESIDENT "DECLARES WAR" ON PROFITEERING

General Johnson To Reorganise N.R.A.

London, Aug. 20.

President Roosevelt has decided to start a vigorous campaign to prevent profiteering in grains and other foodstuffs, states the New York correspondent of the "Financial Times." By endeavouring to check the advance of wholesale prices, the President is obviously afraid that the country's existing situation will worsen if the cost of living continues to mount, but Wall Street is wondering whether the Administration will be able to check the rise in commodities which were formerly the main object in their programme.

The correspondent points out that the alteration in the Administration's policy is due to the change in internal conditions. On the one hand the cost of living rising is owing to the shortage caused by the drought and on the other the general trade falling is partly owing to the increased costs in production, and this throws light on President Roosevelt's instructions to General Johnson to work out and carry out a plan for the reorganisation of the National Recovery Administration. Reuter.

C.E. RAILWAY DISPUTE

London Press Comment

London, Aug. 20.

In a leading article this morning, regarding the Chinese Eastern Railway dispute, the "Morning Post" concludes "The Soviet will not fight, but may be trusted to squeal. It has been shrewdly surmised that their present move to join the League of Nations may have something to do with this quarrel."

"Possibly they hope that Lord Lytton will be sent out to adjudicate upon the value in yen of their interior 'Rights in the Chinese Eastern Railway.'"

The "Morning Post" adds that they can imagine M. Litvinov using his peculiar talents to embroil the western powers with Japan on behalf of the Soviet as an innocent victim of Imperialist aggression in the Far East. The Journal says that it hopes that Geneva will not be so incredibly foolish as to mix itself up in this quarrel—Reuter.

Rise Of Yalu River Causes Havoc

Harbin, Aug. 20.

Unprecedented and torrential rains on Friday, Saturday and Sunday have caused a rise in the Yalu River. The breakdown of two reservoirs has submerged 80 per cent of Antung.

Six hundred people are either dead or missing, while sixty thousand are homeless and without food or water.

Twelve thousand houses are under water. The streets are transformed into raging rivers, carrying off houses, people and property. The damage, which includes 750 boats and five bridges smashed, smothered, is estimated at 6,000,000 (six million) yen.

To add to the distress, the refugees are faced with the prospect of a water famine. Reuter.

INTERPORT SWIMMING

Final Trials To Be Held At V.R.C. On Thursday

After the first three preliminary trials at the V.R.C. in the course of which both W. Lawrence and L. Roza Pereira set new records, it is becoming evident that these two swimmers will have to shoulder the burden in all the principal races at the forthcoming interport aquatics at Shanghai.

The selectors, however, are faced with the problem of sending up a good second string. The importance of selecting this part of the team can well be gauged by the fact that should anything prevent either of our two stars from shining, the lesser lights will have to rise to the occasion and in their turn, carry the responsibility of representing Hong Kong.

Paget For Sprint Races?

The question of the ultimate composition of the team will probably be decided on Thursday, when the final trials will be held.

The first point to arise, so far as the Selection Committee is concerned is the question of picking the second string (after Lawrence) for the 100 yards Free Style. Paget, who won both the 50 yards and the 75 yards free style, in convincing manner, comes to mind as a most likely candidate. He should have little difficulty in accounting for H. Ozorio and E. B. da Roza, who are the other candidates. One of the events in Thursday's trials will be the 100 yards Free Style with Lawrence standing down.

Chinese Candidate.

It will be recalled that at the very first trial for the 100 yards back stroke, the record was lowered by L. Roza Pereira, who won by a touch from Lawrence, with Lau Po Hay of the Chinese Athletic Association a very good third. It is considered advisable to hold a re-trial for this race and if possible to include Lau in the interport for this event, as Lawrence and Pereira will have their hands pretty full. If the Chinese swimmer deserves inclusion in the team, he will have plenty of opportunity of showing it on Thursday when the 100 yards back stroke is on the card, and for which both Lawrence and Pereira are starting. It looks as if the record might be lowered further.

Dead Heat Problem

It will be recalled that in the 100 yards breast stroke, the V.R.C. representative, L. M. Marques dead-heated with Sun To Shuen of the C.A.A. These two, together with other aspirants, will have a further opportunity of demonstrating their talent, for the committee has arranged a further trial of the 100 yards breast stroke as well, to which the two who dead-heated have been invited.

Long Distance

W. Campbell, so far, has not won a place in the team as his exhibition in the 440 did not justify his inclusion. Campbell, however, finished second to Pereira in the Harbour Race last year and it is felt perhaps that he may do much better over a longer distance, than the 440. As there is an 880 event in the interport programme, Campbell has a sporting chance of being included. Another aspirant for the 880 is A. A. da Roza, whose meteoric rise into the "A" Class in local swimming has been severely halted at the trials where he has not scored much success as hitherto. He may redeem himself over the 880.

It is, however, not quite certain whether this event will be included in Thursday's programme. The probabilities are that it will be on the card, but nothing definite has as yet been decided.

Diving

The selection of the second string for the diving event, is also a difficult matter, and for that purpose a further opportunity will be given to prospective candidates on Thursday.

A water polo match will be staged at the conclusion of the trials. The sports will commence promptly at 6 p.m. and members of the public are welcome. A charge of twenty cents is made at the gate.

The Programme

The tentative programme is as follows:—
100 Yards free style
100 Yards back stroke
100 Yards breast stroke
880 Yards free style
Diving
Water Polo

38 miles having taken only 2 hours, 35 mins.

Golfers' Paradise

Tea was enjoyed by the hard-riding wheelers before the arrival of the other section who reached the Cateria by the direct route in sufficient time to sample refreshments before leaving at 4 p.m. for a return trip via Fanling and Tai-po. On resuming the wind had to be faced, but even this failed to reduce the high pace, and the golfing "Mecca" was passed at 5.10 p.m. whilst Tai-po was reached at 5.30 p.m. A final stop for refreshments was made here, whilst shortly after resumption of the spin, a detour along the railway was made. The difficult going along the iron track, however, compelled the riders to return to the "Circuit" by way of the narrow road, from Tai-po Station, and to proceed once more along the final 15-miles stretch of landslide dotted highway through Shatin to Kowloon. After the former village had been left in the rear the party ran into a light rain which gathered in intensity as the end of the run approached. The last of the landlides having been negotiated a very fast pace up the remainder of the hill and down its southern slopes brought the party to the Headquarters at 22, Tai-po Road, at 6.50 p.m.

Next Sunday, under the guidance of Mr. L. A. Anning, it is intended to visit Sha-tau-kok and to explore some of the many paths and items of interest in that locality. The party will, as usual, leave the Jordan Road Pier of the Vehicular Ferry at 9.15 a.m. and will return at approximately 7 p.m. Refreshments should be carried, and all cyclists are extended cordial invitation to take part. Further record attempts are to be made this week by members of the Club. It has also been decided to invite any other local cyclists to join in these time trials, and Mr. E. Minns, "C" Block, Victoria Barracks, will be pleased to issue particulars to any applicant.

THE CYCLING CLUB

Riding In The Rain

The highest mileage yet recorded in one ride by the members of the Hong Kong Cycling Club (as a Club-run), was made on Sunday last when Mr. J. Cole's party returned to Hongkong after a ride of 74 miles, which took them only 7½ hours, inclusive of halts chiefly caused by landlides.

The heavy rain of the early morning necessitated the start being delayed until 11.20 a.m. when the Sha-tin road was chosen en route for Castle Peak. Near the 6th milestone the first landslide blocked the way, but as a path had already been cut through it passage was not difficult. Within the next 200 yards two other landlides occurred, the former carrying away the road altogether for a distance of over 30 yards, leaving a hole almost 20 yards in depth. A pathway through the trees to the left was negotiated by the cyclists, who discovered on the opposite side of the gap that another slide had taken place which completely debarred progress by road again. A path around the jutting side of the hill provided egress on this occasion and the riders were soon headed down the hill on the way to Tai-po which was reached in an hour and 10 mins. despite the delays caused by the landlides mentioned together with two other minor ones which had occurred near the 12th milestone.

The first halt was made at Fanling when raincoats were doffed and the ride re-commenced after 5 mins. had elapsed. A strong following wind from this point assisted in keeping a high average speed with the result that the party reached the Cateria at Castle Peak before 2 p.m., the

LOCAL FOOTBALL

Council Rejects Cup Offer

At the monthly meeting of the Hong Kong Football Council yesterday, which was presided over by Major C. M. Mannors, O.B.E., several subjects of interest to local soccer enthusiasts were discussed.

An application was received from the South Wales Borderers, last year's champions, to enter the league, on condition that when they were relieved by the Royal Welsh Fusiliers which will arrive here in November 22, the latter be allowed to fulfill the outstanding fixtures. The application was granted.

It was decided to allow the Railway Recreation Club to become a member of the Association.

The Royal Army Ordnance Corps was allowed to be re-affiliated.

It was also announced that the entries for this season's league competitions was a record, no less than 13 clubs being entered in each of the three divisions.

A ground sub-committee to take charge of the arrangement of matches and to look after gate receipts was formed, the members being Capt. Williams, Mr. Wong Ka Tsun, Mr. Stokes, Mr. W. R. Hughes, Mr. A. C. Goldenberg and Mr. Gingham.

An offer was received from the Cow and Gate Milk Co. to donate a cup to be competed for in the annual charity match for the funds of the M.C.L. The offer was however, declined partly on account of there being too many cups for competition and partly the Association was not inclined to let the charity match to become an annual fixture. Previous to this an application for this match to be played was granted.

It was agreed that a match between the South Wales Borderers and South China be played in aid of the Military Tattoo funds.

An application from the Chinese Amateur Athletic Federation to arrange a match between the Combined Chinese and the Rest of the Colony in order to assist the Federation in wiping off their financial deficit incurred through the last Olympic was granted.

On the ground that there was no time for such fixtures, permission was refused to the Santo Tomas University, Manila, to play a series of matches here between December and January next year.

An invitation had been sent to Tientsin to participate in the coming Interport.

CHIN CHIN!

"The poise of the chin means everything in golf," says an expert. To be a golfer, some advice, begin by mastering the action of the chin; Make its correct position a fixed habit; And you need never fear to be a rabbit. This may be so or not, but anyway, Regarding golfers' chins, I long to say I do so wish their wagging were diminished. In certain cases, when the game is finished!

RACING SEASON RESUMES

Macao Meeting On September 9.

The second half of the racing season commences on September 9, when the Macao Jockey Club will hold their fourth extra meeting at the Arela Peta Course.

A well arranged programme of seven races has been drawn up and it is hoped that the entries will be such as to make this meeting a thorough success.

The tit-bit of the programme is a six furlongs race for griffins of this season of the Hong Kong Jockey Club. The race however is confined to ponies which have not won more than $750 in stakes.

Another race which promises to be very open is for subscription griffins of the Macao Jockey Club and non-winners from amongst the subs of The Hong Kong Jockey Club. The distance is six furlongs.

All the distances are six furlongs except the Macao Slac Handicap, which is over a mile. This race is for "C" Class ponies and should draw a big field.

Entries close on August 31 at noon, at the Secretary's office, Messrs. Benjamin and Potts.

SHANGHAI CRICKET AVERAGES

Stokes Regains Head Of Batting With 80.52

Shanghai, Aug. 15. While no actual changes occurred in the table through the league cricket matches played during the week-end, the results were interesting. The Tyros did not lose ground in their attempt to get to grips with the Ramblers, whose four-point lead should allow them to retain their present place but another story would have been told had the Colts done the Tyros a good turn by inflicting defeat on their rivals. In fact, the Colts only took one point from a double engagement, while the Wanderers again tasted the fruits of success by overcoming the Police.

	P.	W.	D.	L.	Pts.
S.C.C. Ramblers	9	7	2	0	18
S.R.C. Tyros	9	5	2	2	12
S.C.C. Nomads	9	5	2	2	12
S.R.C. Colts	9	3	3	3	9
Shaforce	9	4	0	5	8
S.C.C. Stragglers	9	2	2	5	6
Police	9	2	1	6	5
S.C.C. Wanderers	9	2	0	7	4

L. F. Stokes has wrested the batting average leadership from F. Marshall, who, playing in two matches during the week-end, was only able to make a total contribution of seven, which drops him to the third berth, whilst Booth's not out century puts him in second place. Stokes has now such a big margin that it is extremely unlikely any other batsmen will get to grips with him throughout the present season, for he continues to bat consistently.

Few changes took place in the bowling averages, the only notable introduction being F.A.M. Elliot, whose ten wickets allow him to participate amongst the premier four, and A. Lingard's fine performance against the Colts puts him well in the running.

NEWS FROM CHINA

RED DRIVE ON FOCHOW

Move To Relieve Pressure on Funing

Fochow, Aug. 7. The situation in the Min River Basin has been very tense for the past ten days, due to a sudden and unexpected counter-move on the part of the Reds, in which a party of some three or four thousand out-maneuvred the military by marching at night and hiding in the day time.

Before the Fochow military authorities knew anything was wrong they suddenly learned that the telegraph and other communications between Yenching and Fochow were cut off, and the Reds were in Kuzow some sixty miles this side of Yenching. This startling news was received late on Monday, July 30. On Tuesday, it was authentically reported that the Reds had taken Suikow halfway between Fochow and Yenching, and had complete control of all the country between Yuki and Funing, with Fochow in front of them unprotected except for a few marines at Pagoda Anchorage, and about 300 soldiers in the city. The 37th Division was in the Funing district, and the only other soldiers available were at Hingwa.

By five o'clock on Wednesday, August 1, the Reds had taken Fusal, 25 miles above Fochow. The consular body received the news and held a meeting at one o'clock in the morning of the 2nd. The summer residents on Kullanz mountain, eight miles from Fochow, were notified to be in readiness to leave at a moment's notice as it was exceedingly doubtful whether or not the advance could be stopped before a raid was made on the city. Warships were called for, and within a few hours American, British and Japanese gunboats were in the harbour, and later a French gunboat arrived.

Marines from Pagoda Anchorage took over control of the city and strict martial law was enforced both day and night. By Thursday night the Reds had advanced to within ten miles of the upper bridge on Nantal Island, or about thirteen miles from Fochow. There they were halted and were forced to retreat on Friday morning. Three aeroplanes arrived on Thursday morning, and bombing could be heard up the river on Friday morning.

The Provincial government made hasty preparations to quiet the city on Thursday and dismantling of the radio station was begun. A portable broadcasting set was used to transmit government messages only for a day or two.

Strategic Drive

The drive against Fochow apparently was made for the purpose of drawing the 87th away from Funing, which point the Reds have been desperately trying to hold, as it is their only opportunity to get access to the sea. Also, they are reported to have been very short of salt, medicines and opium. They obtained 4,000 piculs of salt at Suikow, and opium and some medicines at Funing.

Heavy fighting has been reported at Mintang, 50 miles above Fochow, but information is difficult to obtain, as the military authorities are keeping everything as secret as possible, due to the extremely embarrassing situation in which they find themselves after stating so blantly that Fuchien was practically cleaned up as far as the communists were concerned.

It is reported that a portion of the 18th Army, which was taken into the nationalist army a few months ago, has gone over to the Reds and that the nationalist forces have been defeated on account of it.

It is also reported that the head of the military is not in sympathy with the civil governor, and refuses his full support until the civil governor resigns. Persistent reports to-day are to the effect that the communists are again advancing toward Fochow, and are within about eighteen miles of Fochow to the north. No one is allowed to come into the city who cannot give a clear proof of his identity. Cars have been stopped at a certain point in the city, and foreigners and Chinese alike have been forced to get out

CANTON NEWS AND NOTES

Loans and Loss of Provinces

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Aug. 20.

Reviewing the recent history of the Kuomintang, Mayor Liu Chi Wen, a member of the Central Executive Committee, blamed the Central Authorities for concluding huge loans and the loss of four North-eastern provinces. The speech was made this morning at the weekly memorial service of the South-west Political Council and the Kwangtung Provincial Government.

The present trade depression and general unfavourable conditions throughout the province were traced to the dictatorship regime in Nanking. Mr. Liu added that Dr. Sun Yat Sen cleared out the reactionary and undesirable elements from the Kuomintang. Now the militarists have dominated the Central Kuomintang Headquarters, he said, and with the aid of the mercenary politicians they are running the government contrary to the interest of the country.

Mayor's Liu's talk is deemed to be representative of the views of his colleagues, and this shows that Nanking and Canton are drifting farther apart. It is reported that Canton may call a Fifth National Congress in November to final the one in Nanking.

South-west Aviation

A new passenger plane ordered by the South-west Aviation Corporation has arrived in Hong Kong, and Mr. Hu Kam Ngar, manager of the aviation company will go to Hong Kong to-day to take delivery of the machine, believed to be a Stinson monoplane. The new craft will be used for the route from Canton to Nanning and Kweichow.

The maiden trip from Canton to Hoihow and thence to Nanning is scheduled to take place to-day. The plane will also call at Pak-hoi, an important port in Southern Kwangtung. After arrival at Hoihow in Hainan Island, the machine will fly west to Nanning, provincial capital of Kwangsi, via Pak-hoi.

Telephone Service Increases

The number of automatic telephone service users has increased from 3,000 to 5,000. As there is a further demand for this service another 1,000 numbers have been ordered from an American firm. These new numbers will arrive next January.

Numbers are still available for places in the central parts of the city, but the numbers left will be taken up by new applicants soon. For commercial concerns, the tariff has been increased from $12 to $15 a month, but the usual $100 installation fee remains as before. The tariff for residential use is $8 a month.

TOUR OF JAPANESE AMBASSADOR

To Inspect Conditions In North China

Shanghai, Aug. 20.

The Japanese Ambassador Mr. Satō and Viscount Satō are leaving for China shortly. They will inspect conditions here but will first visit Manchuria and then North China.

It is reported that the elevation in status of the Japanese Legation in China to embassy is unlikely, although the post of Counsellor will be created at the Japanese Legation here.

JUDGE WANG CHUNG HUI IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, Aug. 20.

Judge Wang Chung Hui arrived here to-day by the S. S. President Grant. He will be proceeding to Kiating in one or two days.

and have the car examined. The tension in this city has subsided, however, with the presence of foreign warships in the harbour.

A DEPARTED LEADER

Memorial Service

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Aug. 20.

A memorial service was held this morning at the Chungshan Memorial Hall to commemorate the death on August 20, 1925 of Mr. Liu Chung Kai, well-known Kuomintang follower, who was murdered at the Central Kuomintang Headquarters near the Canton-Kowloon Railway Station.

Born in the United States in 1876, the late Mr. Liu returned to China at the age of 17 and joined Dr. Sun Yat Sen in the revolutionary work. He then went to Japan and studied economics and political science in Waseda University. Upon his return to Canton, he took a conspicuous part in ousting reactionary militarists from here such as Generals Chen Chung Ming, Yang Hsi Min, and Liu Chen Hsiang.

When the Nationalist Government was first formed in Canton, Mr. Liu became Minister of Finance and held other important military and Party posts. Although the murderer was not caught, it is believed that the murder was prompted by jealousy of Mr. Liu's growing political power and his uncanny hold over the labour unions.

In politics, the late Mr. Liu was a radical and carried out many policies that were deemed to have strong Socialist tendency. This was disapproved by the rightist or conservative officials, who also opposed the admission of Communists into the ranks of the Kuomintang. Despite the rain this morning Canton officials proceeded by motor cars after the service to Mr. Liu's grave to pay respects to the departed leader. The Chung Kai Agricultural School is founded in memory of the murdered official.

MRS. GRUNDY IN TSINGTAO

New Regulations For Bathers

Tsingtao, Aug. 12.

In her tour of China, Mrs. Grundy has not neglected Tsingtao, where the scanty attire worn by Shanghaiers and others on holiday has aroused the disapproval of the Bureau of Public Safety.

In a notice to the public the Bureau says: "It has been noted that in the vicinity of the various beaches in Tsingtao, and also along the public thoroughfares, people have been roaming around, clad simply in a bathing suit. This is not only an unpleasant sight, but also creates an unfavourable impression on the public. The practice naturally calls for the introduction of some measures of restraint."

"It is hereby declared, therefore, that any person (or persons), irrespective of sex, after leaving the Beach zone, will require to be clothed either in ordinary apparel, or that his (or her) bathing suit must be covered with some decent kind of wrap or kimono. "Should any person be found guilty of a violation of the rules of public decency in this connection, he (or she) will be fined a sum not less than five dollars ($5) and not exceeding fifteen dollars ($15)."

JAPANESE MISSING IN MANCHURIA

Hallar Military Authorities Start Search

Tokyo, Aug. 14.

Japanese military authorities at Hallar have sent a search party to seek for three Japanese, four Manchurians and three White Russians, who have been missing following an attack by Mongols on August 6, according to an official telegram reaching here to-day.

The group was travelling by car to Lake Pelen from Hallar when they were attacked. A White Russian appeared at Taitshar and reported that one Japanese, three Manchurians and a White Russian, presumably belonging to the missing party, had been seen on Friday, having in the car at a point about 1,000 kilometres south of Kharin.

"SO FRIENDLY"

English Justice Makes
An Impression

(Special Air Mail Service)

"English Justice Is So Friendly"

London, Aug. 4.
That is the principle impression which our courts of law have left on Mr. Tan Chen, the deputy Lord Chancellor of China.

He is in England to study our legal procedure and expects to incorporate much of it in the Chinese rules of procedure on his return.

When I saw him at the Chinese Legation (writes a correspondent) he had just returned from the Westminster County Court. He speaks no English and the proceedings had to be translated to him.

But even with only a hazy idea of what was going on in the atmosphere of the Court told him all he wanted to know.

"And So Polite"

"Everybody was so friendly," he said, "and so polite. We are polite in China but I am afraid that we are not quite so friendly in our courts of law."

"Your judges have acquired a sort of impartial friendliness. For instance at the Westminster County Court I heard a tailor suing a man in respect of a suit of clothes."

"Plaintiff and defendant were friendly to each other and the judge was friendly to both."

Another thing which struck him was the observance of tradition. The wigs and robes of judge and counsel impressed him particularly.

More Picturesque!

In the new China, where everything is Westernised, justice is debased by comparison. "Of course we have centuries of tradition behind us in China, and many of our laws are based upon it, but in actual procedure your courts are far more picturesque than ours."

Mr. Tan Chen considers that English law is the best in the world. It is adapted to the needs of the people, and while tradition plays an important part the law itself has moved with the times and is framed to meet the changing conditions of the modern world.

"Fact," he said, "seems all-important in your courts, which, of course, is as it should be, but I am afraid in the East fact is not so popular. We are inclined to think more in terms of theory."

Complexities

"The Chinese do not find it easy to appreciate the new western ideas especially with regard to the law."

"For instance it is only comparatively recently that we have had civil courts at all, and the complexities of contract law are a hard nut for the Chinese to crack."

Revised Version

A member of a picnic party who attempted to head off a bull was attacked by the infuriated animal. In this case he who hesitates is tossed.

SHANGHAI MARKET COMMENT

Shanghai, Aug. 15.

In spite of the sharp rise in the New York and Singapore raw commodity markets, only a few odd lots of rubber shares changed hands on the Shanghai stock market last Tuesday, with little alteration in rates. The general market was rather lifeless. On the next day rubber shares were quite firm on the good advance registered on the London raw commodity market.

With the exceptions of Ewos and Explorations no interest was shown in the general market. There was good demand for debentures, especially for Central Properties 51/2 of which one lakh was done at 100.75 and a lakh at 100.50, both for cash. On Thursday the only transactions recorded were Shanghai Loans at 8.65 for August and 25 Shanghai Docks at 125.00 cash. In the debenture market the feature was a line of £118,000 Chinese Government, 6% Loan, 1934, at £101.000. The rubber shares market failed to respond to the sharp rise in the raw commodity markets on Friday, which was attributed to the absence of a great many brokers and clients. Only odd lots were done in the general market. Owing to the fact that the raw rubber commodity markets are closed on Saturday during August, only insignificant changes could be noted in the half-day session last Saturday. There was no change in the rubber section of the Shanghai stock market at the opening of the week, but upon receiving the Singapore opening rates at a quarter of a cent lower than Friday's close, easing tendencies were noticeable during the afternoon session. The general market was regular with little business. In debentures, approximately 21 lakhs of Shanghai Power 51/2 was done at 102.25 cash.

Inactivity was the outstanding feature of the trading at the Chinese Government Bond Market during the week ended August 11th. Throughout the six days there were only minor fluctuations with no definite tendency in either direction. Due to fairly substantial reverses on the last day of the week, prices closed somewhat lower than on the preceding week.
